Liberty Man Is Held On Charge of Arson

Liberty, July 3 (AP)—The owner of a large supermarket that burned down last Feb. 2 was arrested yesterday on an arson charge.

Police said the owner, Boris Zuckerman, offered two employes a total of $2,500 to set the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $100,000.

Zuckerman was arraigned on a second degree arson charge before Liberty Justice William T. Garrigan, waived examination and was held for action by the Grand Jury.

Paul Jacobs, one of the employes, similarly was held on a third degree arson charge. Authorities did not reveal the name of the other employe, a teen-ager.

George W. Rogers Held by Police at Bayonne in Case

A hero of the Morro Castle ship disaster was held today, the Associated Press said, as a material witness in the bludgeon deaths of two people whose bodies were found in their home at Bayonne, N. J., after they failed to arrive in this city on a visit.

The AP report said Bayonne police booked George W. Rogers last night and said he was believed to be the last person to see William Hummel, 83, alive.

.. Reported to Be Friend

Rogers, now a radio repairman, was reported to be a close friend and neighbor of Hummel and his spinster daughter, Edith, 58, whose body was found with her father's in their home at 582 Avenue E. Police estimated they died 12 days previously.

Police broke into the untidy home and found Hummel's body sprawled on the dining room floor. The woman's body was found under a bed in an upstairs bedroom. Police said there were bloodstains in the bedroom, but none near Hummel's body.

Money Is Missing

More than $2,000 Hummel reportedly withdrew from a bank was unaccounted for police said.

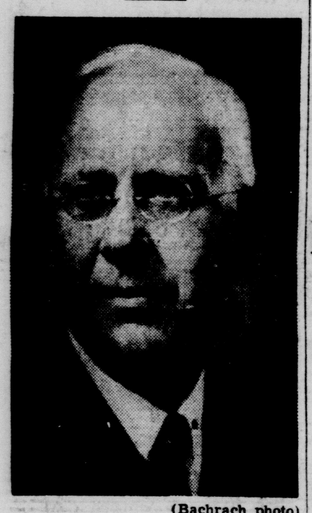

According to police, Hummel sold the house about two weeks ago and planned moving to Florida. But first he and his daughter were scheduled to visit relatives in Kingston.

Retired Appeals Judge Owned Argus Here; Had Degrees as Legal Scholar

JUDGE L. C. CROUCH

Leonard Callendar Crouch, 87, of Syracuse, retired judge of the New York State Court of Appeals, a native of this city and former local publisher and attorney, died Thursday while visiting his daughter, Mrs. Joseph U. Douglass in Falls Church, Va., across the Potomac from Washington.

He was appointed to New York's highest court in 1932 by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, and retired from the bench on December 31, 1936. In 1937 he became an official referee of the court. The judge held an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Syracuse University and was Visiting Professor of Cornell Law School.

The death of Judge Crouch is the second within several months striking the ranks of prominent jurists. Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the New York State Court of Appeals, another native and outstanding law scholar, died this spring, and his funeral drew to this city dignitaries, led by Governor Dewey, from all areas of the state.

Kingston Academy Graduate

Judge Crouch was born here on July 30, 1866, a son of Henry Gage Crouch, publisher of the Kingston Argus, and Almira Callendar Crouch. He was graduated from Kingston Academy in 1884, and before going to college worked in the office of the Argus and became a qualified printer. For a period following his father's death in 1904, he was the publisher.

After graduation from Cornell University in 1889 and attendance at Cornell Law School. Judge Crouch returned to Kingston to practice law. In 1892 he went to Syracuse, as a lawyer for the Eastern Building and Loan Association. In 1895 he married Anne Laura Paine of Troy, Pa., who in her early years spent much time in Kingston and, like Judge Crouch, was especially interested in Ulster county history and the Catskill Mountains.

Lectured at Universities

In 1897 Judge Crouch became attorney for the Industrial Savings and Loan Association. In 1899 he formed a partnership with his college friend, Albert P. Fowler and Irving D. Vann and continued with this firm until 1913 when he was appointed, and later elected Justice of the New York State Supreme Court. He was appointed to the Appellate Division, Fourth Department, by Governor Alfred E. Smith in 1923. While on the Appellate Division Judge Crouch was a guest lec-

Man, 25, Is Killed In Coaster Plunge

Falls 58 Feet to His Death From Cliffside Park Thrill Ride

Cliffside Park, N. J., July 3 (AP)—A powerfully built, 220-pound man catapulted 58 feet to his death from a speeding roller coaster at Palisades Amusement Park last night.

The hurtling body of the unidentified man, about 25, glanced off a woman, injuring her, and landed on the concrete pavement of the park's midway to the horror of scores of people.

The man was pronounced dead by Dr. Moses Sandler, park physician, at 7:15 p. m., about five minutes after he fell from the extreme top of the thrill ride known as "The Cyclone." He died of a compound fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

The woman Mrs. Rachel Fawley, 61, of Franklin Lakes, was taken to Englewood Hospital in fair condition suffering from bruises and shock.

Annoyed Girls

Police Capt. John McAvoy said two girls seated just in front of the man said he pulled their hair, cracked jokes and continually annoyed them during the ride.

"He was there one minute and gone the next," he quoted one of the girls as saying.

McAvoy said operators of the ride told him the man plunged to his death on his 12th consecutive ride on The Cyclone. He was five feet, 10 inches tall, clad in khaki

House Vote Backs Cut in Plane Cash

Approves 34 Billions in New Funds: Is Less Than Eisenhower Requests

Washington, July 3 (AP)—The House gave President Eisenhower's military judgment a heavy vote of confidence yesterday, but upheld a billion dollar cut in his "minimum" request for new defense funds.

The House unanimously approved without change $34,434,140,500 in new money for the year which began last Wednesday, after beating down an attempt to restore $1,175,000,000 cut from the funds for the air force.

The total is $1,337,422,500 less than President Eisenhower requested, after slicing five billion dollars from former President Truman's recommendations.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where it is expected to face another fight over how much money the air force should get.

Leaders on both sides of the two-day House debate credited Eisenhower's personal prestige with a vote showing strong support for the President's 1955 goal of a 120-wing air force, rather than the 143 wings under Truman's program. A wing ranges from 30 to 75 planes.

On Rollcall Vote

Final passage of the overall bill came on a rollcall vote of 386-0. But the crucial test over air force power was decided by a rollcall vote of 320-161.

The President, in a last minute letter read to the House, put his military reputation behind the cutdown air force. He said proposals to appropriate more funds represented an attempt of "service partisans . . . to pile dollars upon expanded dollars . . ."

Rep. Mahon (D.-Tex.) sponsored four amendments to restore $1,175,000,000 out of five billion dollars slashed from the air force funds. Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, retired air force chief of staff, has told Congress this was a minimum amount to keep building toward a goal of 143 wings.

Supported by Republicans

The amendments were supported by five Republicans and 156 Democrats, and opposed by 196 Republicans and 33 Democrats.

Mahon said "civilian production geniuses" in the Pentagon were cutting the air force without military advice.

Rep. Scrivner (R.-Kas.), floor leader for the bill, argued that 120 "solid" wings were better than 143 "cardboard" wings. He said the cuts would not eliminate any combat aircraft.

The bill earmarks these amounts, with cuts added by the House Appropriations Committee:

ARMY — $12,982,000,000. This boosts the Truman figures by nearly 900 million dollars, but for the first time includes about two billion dollars for Korean hostilities. Eisenhower recommendations were cut by 689 million dollars.

Navy Cut Made

NAVY—$9,384,383,000, a cut of two billion below the Truman figures and 398 million under the Eisenhower requests. Funds are included for a third 60,000-ton Forrestal class super-carrier.

AIR FORCE—$11,048,000,000, a reduction of $5,030,000,000 from the Truman budget, 240 million dollars under the Eisenhower budget.

Office of the secretary of defense — $1,019,500,000. This includes 500 million dollars to begin a campaign of stockpiling critical tools.

The House action also underwrote administration plans to cut military strength from the 1953 average of 3,550,382 to 3,358,087 by the middle of 1954.

Battle Still Might Come On Reciprocal Trade Pact

Washington, July 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower's requested one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Law now has passed both House and Senate, but a fight still is likely before it reaches his desk.

The Senate, in passing the measure late yesterday, knocked out of the bill a House provision which would add a seventh member to the Tariff Commission so as to give the Republicans a four-to-three edge.

This provision was put in originally to persuade key Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee to let the measure go to the floor.

Several of these Republicans favor higher protective tariffs.

They are not expected to look kindly on the Senate's rejection of the plan to boost the commission size.

The Ways and Means Committee has been embroiled in the bitter House fight over extension of the excess profits tax. This might contribute to a dispute on the Tariff Commission issue when the Reciprocal Trade Bill goes to a Senate-House conference where differences will be ironed out. Top-ranking members of the committee will serve as House conferees.

However, A Senate Republican leader said privately he expected the House would accept the Senate version.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, has said it would be impossible to get a provision for a seven-member Tariff Commission through the Senate in the face of any united Democratic opposition.

Both southern and northern Democrats have been strong for the reciprocal trade program since it was first put through in 1934.

The Tariff Commission has an important role in the program because it advises the President of all changes in import duties. It has had six members—three Republicans and three Democrats—since it was established in 1916.

The reciprocal trade law expired June 12 because of House delay in acting on extension, but this did not affect the 43 pacts negotiated under it. These agree-

Probable GOP Candidates

County Attorney Fred Stang (seated) mentioned yesterday as the probable candidate for mayor on the Republican ticket, talks with Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly, who will seek re-election for the third term, if he and his likely running mate are nominated at the unofficial convention of the City Committee on Monday, July 13, at the Ulster county court house. (Freeman photo).

Party Leaders Laud Stang And Kelly as Candidates

Senator Wicks and Haver Are 'Very Pleased' at Decision Pair Will Seek Nomination

The announcement by County Attorney Frederick H. Stang on Thursday that he will seek the Republican nomination for the office of Mayor of the city of Kingston met with favorable reaction in party circles last night and today.

Party leaders also expressed pleasure with Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly's decision to allow his name to be placed in nomination for re-election.

At the same time, praise was given Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk for his administration over a period of three terms, and regret was expressed over the fact that he is understood to have declined to seek re-nomination.

Might Reveal Plans

Mayor Newkirk so far has declined to comment on his plans, but said today that he expects to make an announcement the early part of next week relative to his future position.

Mino Might Seek Post

The other top post on the city ticket—that of candidate for city judge—will probably go to the incumbent, Raymond Mino, most observers feel. It is understood that Judge Mino, who has served one four-year term, will allow his name to be placed in nomination for re-election.

Recommendations for candidates for aldermen and supervisors of the city wards were made at Republican caucuses held last night, but because of the procedure in compiling and forwarding the results, no definite information was available this morning. Robert Snyder, Republican party secretary, said that less than 10 per cent of the results had been received by him this morning, and he expected to have more complete returns by Monday.

Wicks, Haver Statements

Asked if he had any comment on Stang's declaration, Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, Republican county chairman, said this morning:

"I am very pleased that Mr. Stang is going to run for the nomination." Reviewing Stang's long experience in governmental affairs including posts as Senator Wicks' secretary in Albany for seven years, as assistant district attorney, clerk of the board of supervisors, and county attorney, the Republican chairman said, "I think Mr. Stang is well qualified."

N. LeVan Haver, Republican city chairman, issued this statement:

"I regret that Mayor Newkirk decided not to seek another term as mayor. He has given the city a business-like administration and has had the best interests of all the people at heart—all of the time. Many vexing problems have arisen during his six years as mayor and he has been ever alert and willing to give his best to the solution of these problems.

"Fred Stang has had many years of experience in politics and government. He will bring to the office of mayor a full understanding of the city's affairs. I am sure we have never had a candidate more thoroughly qualified from the standpoint of experience, willingness and ability. I know he will have the wholehearted and earnest support of the rank and file of the Republican party and independent voters."

Kelly Cooperation Praised

About Kelly, Haver said, "I am very pleased that Joe Kelly has decided to be a candidate for re-election. He has been very cooperative to the administration in the past and both Stang and myself were pleased to have a seasoned campaigner with Joe Kelly's qualities as a prospective running mate for the candidate for mayor."

It was pointed out that Kelly has been extremely popular with independent voters as well as Republican voters, and has piled up large majorities each time he has

Strong Winds Whip Adirondack Blazes

Conservation Spokesman Sees No Chance for Rain Immediately

Albany, July 3 (AP)—Strong winds today fanned flames that already had crackled through five acres of spruce trees atop Round Mountain in the dry Adirondack woodlands.

The Conservation Department reported that the fire—the 54th in the northern New York woodlands in the last 13 days—could be "a bad one, but the fire fighters hope to hold it."

Almost a mile of hose was needed to reach from the nearest stream to the mountain top, which is near Keene, Essex county.

Meanwhile, rangers patrolled the scenes of four other mountain fires to watch for further outbreaks.

A Conservation Department spokesman said no relief from the dry heat was in sight, at least until Wednesday or Thursday.

Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea said yesterday that the fire hazard was more acute than it had been since 1941. He asked holiday travelers not to be careless with matches and cigarettes in the forest area. There has been no "good soaking rain" in most areas of the state since May 27, he noted.

Auto Is Found

Stamford, Conn., July 3 (AP)—Stamford police reported today an automobile had been picked up in Pennsylvania bearing license plates issued to Angelo Parrino, sought in the June 16 death of a registered nurse. Parrino and his brother, John, police say were with the nurse, Miss Una Beatrice Eisan, only hours before her battered body was found on a beach near here. Medical authorities said she apparently had been beaten and then run over by an automobile, perhaps intentionally.

Loan Is Approved

Washington, July 3 (AP)—A bill authorizing the loan of an aircraft carrier to France for use in the Indochina war was approved yesterday by the Senate Armed Services Committee. The committee also approved loan of two modernized snorkel submarines to Italy to strengthen NATO defenses against submarines.

Offices to Close

Offices and departments in the city hall will be closed all day tomorrow in observance of the holiday.

Adult Driving Classes Are to be Organized

New driver training classes for adults will be formed Monday at 9:30 a. m. in Room V-110 of the new Vocational Building.

The classes will meet on Mondays, one from 4:30 to 6:30, the other from 6:30 to 8:30 for related instruction and then in groups of four on one other day of the week for behind-the-wheel instruction.

The first meeting for these classes will be held Monday.

Hillary Tells How Tenzing Saved Life On Everest Slope

Briton Says Aide Pulled Him From Crevice —Two to Share Honors

London, July 3 (AP)—Sir Edmund Hillary told today how "Tiger" Tenzing saved his life on Mt. Everest, just before the two conquered it May 28.

"We were nearly at the top, and had been climbing together," said Hillary. "I was leading down the ice wall when a large piece of ice gave way and there was a crevice. Tenzing had the rope tied to me and pulled me up. I managed to get up by the rope."

The victorious expedition of 13 men under Lt. Col. John Hunt flew in today from India and got a rousing reception. They held a news conference to tell their stories.

Hillary and Tenzing agreed to share the honors for reaching the summit of the world's highest peak, over 29,000 feet, the first men ever to do so and return alive.

Hunt's Explanation

Col. Hunt explained it this way: "You get to the top of a mountain only as a result of climbing with other people on a rope. It is not a matter of who is first, second or last on the rope. Each has a particular job to do and one is to help others.

"They got there together. They got there on the rope, each having his own job to do, each taking his part and alternating the job."

Earlier, in Katmandu, Nepal, Tenzing had said he reached the peak first, and there was considerable controversy in India about it after others said it was Hillary who got there first.

Snow Was Unstable

Hillary said there was a touchy moment just before victory. They had to decide whether to go on when they were almost in sight of the top. The snow was rather unstable and their supply of oxygen was running short. But they agreed to risk it.

"We do not get an opportunity to climb Everest every day," Hillary said. "When we got to the top the main thought was one of relief and then we were very pleased about it but our senses were rather dulled because of oxygen. Our main worry then was the descent and whether the oxygen would hold out."

Tenzing, a native of Nepal who does not speak or understand English, smiled as he met the crowd of more than 100 newsmen and cameramen. Wearing an open shirt and baggy trousers, he answered salutations in a Buddhist way by pressing his hands together in front of his face.

Tells of Challenge

Hunt, 42, was asked why people climb mountains. He replied:

"On Everest you are confronted with a challenge and there is an urge to solve an unsolved prob-

Foe Made Suicide Pact or Were Tied to Keep From Retreating Is Belief

Seoul, July 3 (AP)—South Korean infantrymen backed off the peak of embattled Lookout Mountain in central Korea today after fighting their way through fanatical Chinese troops including some lashed together by wire.

An Eighth Army officer said the ROK soldiers pulled back to the southern slope after a small enemy force counterattacked in the afternoon.

Officers of the third ROK Division told Associated Press Correspondent John Randolph that infantrymen who swept Reds off the battered ridge after dawn found a number of Chinese bodies wired together. They could not say how many of the bodies were tied.

The officers said the Chinese apparently had either made a suicide pact to die fighting, or they were wired together to keep them from retreating.

South Koreans Dig In

Shortly before noon South Koreans dug in on the crest of Lookout reported breaking up a counterattack by three Chinese companies which charged up the slope in the wake of a heavy artillery and mortar barrage.

A three-prong South Korean attack launched before dawn ousted a Chinese battalion of about 750 men from three main positions on the ridge which forms Lokout Mountain, the Eighth Army said.

The ROKs and Communists have been locked in bitter see-saw fighting for a week in the pocket formed by the Pukhan and Kumsong rivers on the east-central front.

Lookout and Finger Ridge are on the west shoulder of the bulge driven in UN lines by the Communists last month.

Eighth Army headquarters reported fighting continued this morning on a dominant knoll of Finger Ridge. Before noon nearly two Chinese companies were opposing the ROKs.

Fighting Elsewhere Light

Fighting elsewhere across the rain-soaked front was light.

Heavy overcast held down all but a few bombers which made radar-aimed strikes.

The Chinese push across some 15 miles of the east central front during June appeared to have slackened, at least temporarily.

But while the fighting raged, it was as heavy as any in the past two years.

The Eighth Army reported it inflicted more than 36,200 casualties on the Reds during June—third highest on record in the, three-year war—but it also caught the greatest shelling of the war—nearly 1½ million rounds in the same period.

Agreement Is Reached

New York, July 3 (AP)—An agreement was reached at noon today by railroad and union officials to end a "sick" strike that had cut service on the Long Island Rail Road more than 50 per cent since last midnight.

Calls Upon Americans To Assist

Says His Nation Will Not Swerve From Goal Of Common Cause to Fight Communism

Seoul, July 3 (AP)—U. S.-South Korean truce talks were stalemated today as President Syngman Rhee clung stubbornly to his demand for a unified Korea and declared he "will never abandon the struggle halfway."

In an impassioned Fourth of July plea recorded by CBS, Rhee called on the American people to back him, and promised that his people "will keep fighting and dying" in the battle against communism.

"The Korean people will never swerve from the orginal objective of our common cause," he said. "We cannot afford to rest or halt until we consummate the one democratic world."

Rhee's plea came after a 65-minute morning meeting with U. S. Envoy Walter S. Robertson —their seventh secret session.

A high source said Robertson rejected Rhee's demand for more war if a post-armistice political conference doesn't agree within 90 days to unify Korea.

Discussions Continue

After the conference Robertson told newsmen:

"Our discussions are continuing. I expect to see President Rhee again."

No time has been set for the next session.

Even if Rhee and Robertson reach agreement, the UN must get the Communists to sign the truce.

The Reds apparently were ready until Rhee freed 27,000 anti-Red Korean war prisoners about three weeks ago.

Since then, they have balked stubbornly, demanding the almost-impossible recapture of all the prisoners and postive assurance of UN control over South Korea.

The UN answered the Red demands Monday and called for a quick signing of the present armistice, but there has been no official Red reply, nor any indication when they would. However, unofficially, North Korea has expressed displeasure with the UN answer.

Won't Temper Demands

In more than a week of U. S.-South Korean talks, Rhee has refused to temper his demand for a guaranteed unification of North and South Korea. The U. S. has offered to work for unification by peaceful means, but won't promise to go back to war if the political conference doesn't agree within 90 days, a high source said.

Well-informed observers predicted Robertson will start his homeward flight to Washington within a few days—successful or not. The UN has indicated it will go ahead with an armistice despite any holdout by Rhee.

(In New Delhi, close political associates said Prime Minister Nehru may urge the U. S. to act "more decisively" unless Rhee comes into line by Monday.)

Flies Back to Tokyo

Meanwhile, Robert Murphy, political adviser to UN commander Gen. Mark Clark, flew back to Tokyo after sitting in on the latest Rhee-Robertson meeting. He worked for a week with Robertson.

Even if Robertson leaves without gaining Rhee's support, the U. S. has not shut the door on South Korea. Rhee may later have a change of heart and certainly would be welcomed—even at the last minute—into the UN camp for an armistice.

But at the moment, an authoritative source stressed that Rhee is holding out for an American pledge that U. S. forces will bear arms again in Korea if the political conference fails to solve his nation's problems within 90 days.

President Eisenhower cannot furnish this pledge to Rhee in writing, the source noted. The U. S. Senate would have to ratify any such agreement.

Pleasant, Cool Weather For Fourth Is Expected

(By The Associated Press)

Pleasant and moderately cool weather was the outlook for wide areas of the country for the Fourth of July, ending a spell of hot and muggy weather.

Cooler and drier air from the Pacific today extended over the north central states from the Missouri Valley to the lower Great Lakes and as far south as southern Illinois and Indiana.

The cool front moved eastward and was expected to bring relief from the warm weather in the eastern states by tonight and tomorrow. Today was generally fair and warm in all the southern states and as far north as New York city. It was hot again in the southwest.

The cooler air dropped temperatures as much as 21 degrees in eastern Colorado yesterday. Chicago had its first pleasant night of sleeping since Monday as temperatures dropped to 64 degrees after a high of 90 yesterday.

Thundershowers were reported in several areas from western Nebraska to New England during the night. Damaging thunderstorms skipped across Pennsylvania breaking a four-day heat wave, causing thousands of dollars damage from wind and lightning. Many areas of the state were without electricity temporarily. Winds in some sections were reported as high as 85 miles an hour.

In Washington yesterday, with temperatures up to 98 degrees, nine persons were overcome by heat exhaustion. Some 15,000 federal workers were allowed to go home early. A rainstorm early last night dropped temperatures from 91 to 77 degrees.

Approves 34 Billions in New Funds: Is Less Than Eisenhower Requests

Washington, July 3 (AP)—The House gave President Eisenhower's military judgment a heavy vote of confidence yesterday, but upheld a billion dollar cut in his "minimum" request for new defense funds.

The House unanimously approved without change $34,434,140,500 in new money for the year which began last Wednesday, after beating down an attempt to restore $1,175,000,000 cut from the funds for the air force.

The total is $1,337,422,500 less than President Eisenhower requested, after slicing five billion dollars from former President Truman's recommendations.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where it is expected to face another fight over how much money the air force should get.

Leaders on both sides of the two-day House debate credited Eisenhower's personal prestige with a vote showing strong support for the President's 1955 goal of a 120-wing air force, rather than the 143 wings under Truman's program. A wing ranges from 30 to 75 planes.

On Rollcall Vote

Final passage of the overall bill came on a rollcall vote of 386-0. But the crucial test over air force power was decided by a rollcall vote of 320-161.

The President, in a last minute letter read to the House, put his military reputation behind the cutdown air force. He said proposals to appropriate more funds represented an attempt of "service partisans . . . to pile dollars upon expanded dollars . . ."

Rep. Mahon (D.-Tex.) sponsored four amendments to restore $1,175,000,000 out of five billion dollars slashed from the air force funds. Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, retired air force chief of staff, has told Congress this was a minimum amount to keep building toward a goal of 143 wings.

Supported by Republicans

The amendments were supported by five Republicans and 156 Democrats, and opposed by 196 Republicans and 33 Democrats.

Mahon said "civilian production geniuses" in the Pentagon were cutting the air force without military advice.

Rep. Scrivner (R.-Kas.), floor leader for the bill, argued that 120 "solid" wings were better than 143 "cardboard" wings. He said the cuts would not eliminate any combat aircraft.

The bill earmarks these amounts, with cuts added by the House Appropriations Committee:

ARMY — $12,982,000,000. This boosts the Truman figures by nearly 900 million dollars, but for the first time includes about two billion dollars for Korean hostilities. Eisenhower recommendations were cut by 689 million dollars.

Navy Cut Made

NAVY—$9,384,383,000, a cut of two billion below the Truman figures and 398 million under the Eisenhower requests. Funds are included for a third 60,000-ton Forrestal class super-carrier.

AIR FORCE—$11,048,000,000, a reduction of $5,030,000,000 from the Truman budget, 240 million dollars under the Eisenhower budget.

Office of the secretary of defense — $1,019,500,000. This includes 500 million dollars to begin a campaign of stockpiling critical tools.

The House action also underwrote administration plans to cut military strength from the 1953 average of 3,550,382 to 3,358,087 by the middle of 1954.

Battle Still Might Come On Reciprocal Trade Pact

Washington, July 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower's requested one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Law now has passed both House and Senate, but a fight still is likely before it reaches his desk.

The Senate, in passing the measure late yesterday, knocked out of the bill a House provision which would add a seventh member to the Tariff Commission so as to give the Republicans a four-to-three edge.

This provision was put in originally to persuade key Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee to let the measure go to the floor.

Several of these Republicans favor higher protective tariffs.

They are not expected to look kindly on the Senate's rejection of the plan to boost the commission size.

The Ways and Means Committee has been embroiled in the bitter House fight over extension of the excess profits tax. This might contribute to a dispute on the Tariff Commission issue when the Reciprocal Trade Bill goes to a Senate-House conference where differences will be ironed out. Top-ranking members of the committee will serve as House conferees.

However, A Senate Republican leader said privately he expected the House would accept the Senate version.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, has said it would be impossible to get a provision for a seven-member Tariff Commission through the Senate in the face of any united Democratic opposition.

Both southern and northern Democrats have been strong for the reciprocal trade program since it was first put through in 1934.

The Tariff Commission has an important role in the program because it advises the President of all changes in import duties. It has had six members—three Republicans and three Democrats—since it was established in 1916.

The reciprocal trade law expired June 12 because of House delay in acting on extension, but this did not affect the 43 pacts negotiated under it. These agree-

Probable GOP Candidates

County Attorney Fred Stang (seated) mentioned yesterday as the probable candidate for mayor on the Republican ticket, talks with Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly, who will seek re-election for the third term, if he and his likely running mate are nominated at the unofficial convention of the City Committee on Monday, July 13, at the Ulster county court house. (Freeman photo).

Party Leaders Laud Stang And Kelly as Candidates

Senator Wicks and Haver Are 'Very Pleased' at Decision Pair Will Seek Nomination

The announcement by County Attorney Frederick H. Stang on Thursday that he will seek the Republican nomination for the office of Mayor of the city of Kingston met with favorable reaction in party circles last night and today.

Party leaders also expressed pleasure with Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly's decision to allow his name to be placed in nomination for re-election.

At the same time, praise was given Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk for his administration over a period of three terms, and regret was expressed over the fact that he is understood to have declined to seek re-nomination.

Might Reveal Plans

Mayor Newkirk so far has declined to comment on his plans, but said today that he expects to make an announcement the early part of next week relative to his future position.

Mino Might Seek Post

The other top post on the city ticket—that of candidate for city judge—will probably go to the incumbent, Raymond Mino, most observers feel. It is understood that Judge Mino, who has served one four-year term, will allow his name to be placed in nomination for re-election.

Recommendations for candidates for aldermen and supervisors of the city wards were made at Republican caucuses held last night, but because of the procedure in compiling and forwarding the results, no definite information was available this morning. Robert Snyder, Republican party secretary, said that less than 10 per cent of the results had been received by him this morning, and he expected to have more complete returns by Monday.

Wicks, Haver Statements

Asked if he had any comment on Stang's declaration, Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, Republican county chairman, said this morning:

"I am very pleased that Mr. Stang is going to run for the nomination." Reviewing Stang's long experience in governmental affairs including posts as Senator Wicks' secretary in Albany for seven years, as assistant district attorney, clerk of the board of supervisors, and county attorney, the Republican chairman said, "I think Mr. Stang is well qualified."

N. LeVan Haver, Republican city chairman, issued this statement:

"I regret that Mayor Newkirk decided not to seek another term as mayor. He has given the city a business-like administration and has had the best interests of all the people at heart—all of the time. Many vexing problems have arisen during his six years as mayor and he has been ever alert and willing to give his best to the solution of these problems.

"Fred Stang has had many years of experience in politics and government. He will bring to the office of mayor a full understanding of the city's affairs. I am sure we have never had a candidate more thoroughly qualified from the standpoint of experience, willingness and ability. I know he will have the wholehearted and earnest support of the rank and file of the Republican party and independent voters."

Kelly Cooperation Praised

About Kelly, Haver said, "I am very pleased that Joe Kelly has decided to be a candidate for re-election. He has been very cooperative to the administration in the past and both Stang and myself were pleased to have a seasoned campaigner with Joe Kelly's qualities as a prospective running mate for the candidate for mayor."

It was pointed out that Kelly has been extremely popular with independent voters as well as Republican voters, and has piled up large majorities each time he has

Strong Winds Whip Adirondack Blazes

Conservation Spokesman Sees No Chance for Rain Immediately

Albany, July 3 (AP)—Strong winds today fanned flames that already had crackled through five acres of spruce trees atop Round Mountain in the dry Adirondack woodlands.

The Conservation Department reported that the fire—the 54th in the northern New York woodlands in the last 13 days—could be "a bad one, but the fire fighters hope to hold it."

Almost a mile of hose was needed to reach from the nearest stream to the mountain top, which is near Keene, Essex county.

Meanwhile, rangers patrolled the scenes of four other mountain fires to watch for further outbreaks.

A Conservation Department spokesman said no relief from the dry heat was in sight, at least until Wednesday or Thursday.

Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea said yesterday that the fire hazard was more acute than it had been since 1941. He asked holiday travelers not to be careless with matches and cigarettes in the forest area. There has been no "good soaking rain" in most areas of the state since May 27, he noted.

Auto Is Found

Stamford, Conn., July 3 (AP)—Stamford police reported today an automobile had been picked up in Pennsylvania bearing license plates issued to Angelo Parrino, sought in the June 16 death of a registered nurse. Parrino and his brother, John, police say were with the nurse, Miss Una Beatrice Eisan, only hours before her battered body was found on a beach near here. Medical authorities said she apparently had been beaten and then run over by an automobile, perhaps intentionally.

Loan Is Approved

Washington, July 3 (AP)—A bill authorizing the loan of an aircraft carrier to France for use in the Indochina war was approved yesterday by the Senate Armed Services Committee. The committee also approved loan of two modernized snorkel submarines to Italy to strengthen NATO defenses against submarines.

Offices to Close

Offices and departments in the city hall will be closed all day tomorrow in observance of the holiday.

Adult Driving Classes Are to be Organized

New driver training classes for adults will be formed Monday at 9:30 a. m. in Room V-110 of the new Vocational Building.

The classes will meet on Mondays, one from 4:30 to 6:30, the other from 6:30 to 8:30 for related instruction and then in groups of four on one other day of the week for behind-the-wheel instruction.

The first meeting for these classes will be held Monday.

Hillary Tells How Tenzing Saved Life On Everest Slope

Briton Says Aide Pulled Him From Crevice —Two to Share Honors

London, July 3 (AP)—Sir Edmund Hillary told today how "Tiger" Tenzing saved his life on Mt. Everest, just before the two conquered it May 28.

"We were nearly at the top, and had been climbing together," said Hillary. "I was leading down the ice wall when a large piece of ice gave way and there was a crevice. Tenzing had the rope tied to me and pulled me up. I managed to get up by the rope."

The victorious expedition of 13 men under Lt. Col. John Hunt flew in today from India and got a rousing reception. They held a news conference to tell their stories.

Hillary and Tenzing agreed to share the honors for reaching the summit of the world's highest peak, over 29,000 feet, the first men ever to do so and return alive.

Hunt's Explanation

Col. Hunt explained it this way: "You get to the top of a mountain only as a result of climbing with other people on a rope. It is not a matter of who is first, second or last on the rope. Each has a particular job to do and one is to help others.

"They got there together. They got there on the rope, each having his own job to do, each taking his part and alternating the job."

Earlier, in Katmandu, Nepal, Tenzing had said he reached the peak first, and there was considerable controversy in India about it after others said it was Hillary who got there first.

Snow Was Unstable

Hillary said there was a touchy moment just before victory. They had to decide whether to go on when they were almost in sight of the top. The snow was rather unstable and their supply of oxygen was running short. But they agreed to risk it.

"We do not get an opportunity to climb Everest every day," Hilary said. "When we got to the top the main thought was one of relief and then we were very pleased about it but our senses were rather dulled because of oxygen. Our main worry then was the descent and whether the oxygen would hold out."

Tenzing, a native of Nepal who does not speak or understand English, smiled as he met the crowd of more than 100 newsmen and cameramen. Wearing an open shirt and baggy trousers, he answered salutations in a Buddhist way by pressing his hands together in front of his face.

Tells of Challenge

Hunt, 42, was asked why people climb mountains. He replied:

"On Everest you are confronted with a challenge and there is an urge to solve an unsolved prob-

Foe Made Suicide Pact or Were Tied to Keep From Retreating Is Belief

Seoul, July 3 (AP)—South Korean infantrymen backed off the peak of embattled Lookout Mountain in central Korea today after fighting their way through fanatical Chinese troops including some lashed together by wire.

An Eighth Army officer said the ROK soldiers pulled back to the southern slope after a small enemy force counterattacked in the afternoon.

Officers of the third ROK Division told Associated Press Correspondent John Randolph that infantrymen who swept Reds off the battered ridge after dawn found a number of Chinese bodies wired together. They could not say how many of the bodies were tied.

The officers said the Chinese apparently had either made a suicide pact to die fighting, or they were wired together to keep them from retreating.

South Koreans Dig In

Shortly before noon South Koreans dug in on the crest of Lookout reported breaking up a counterattack by three Chinese companies which charged up the slope in the wake of a heavy artillery and mortar barrage.

A three-prong South Korean attack launched before dawn ousted a Chinese battalion of about 750 men from three main positions on the ridge which forms Lokout Mountain, the Eighth Army said.

The ROKs and Communists have been locked in bitter see-saw fighting for a week in the pocket formed by the Pukhan and Kumsong rivers on the east-central front.

Lookout and Finger Ridge are on the west shoulder of the bulge driven in UN lines by the Communists last month.

Eighth Army headquarters reported fighting continued this morning on a dominant knoll of Finger Ridge. Before noon nearly two Chinese companies were opposing the ROKs.

Fighting Elsewhere Light

Fighting elsewhere across the rain-soaked front was light.

Heavy overcast held down all but a few bombers which made radar-aimed strikes.

The Chinese push across some 15 miles of the east central front during June appeared to have slackened, at least temporarily.

But while the fighting raged, it was as heavy as any in the past two years.

The Eighth Army reported it inflicted more than 36,200 casualties on the Reds during June—third highest on record in the, three-year war—but it also caught the greatest shelling of the war—nearly 1½ million rounds in the same period.

Agreement Is Reached

New York, July 3 (AP)—An agreement was reached at noon today by railroad and union officials to end a "sick" strike that had cut service on the Long Island Rail Road more than 50 per cent since last midnight.

Calls Upon Americans To Assist

Says His Nation Will Not Swerve From Goal Of Common Cause to Fight Communism

Seoul, July 3 (AP)—U. S.-South Korean truce talks were stalemated today as President Syngman Rhee clung stubbornly to his demand for a unified Korea and declared he "will never abandon the struggle halfway."

In an impassioned Fourth of July plea recorded by CBS, Rhee called on the American people to back him, and promised that his people "will keep fighting and dying" in the battle against communism.

"The Korean people will never swerve from the orginal objective of our common cause," he said. "We cannot afford to rest or halt until we consummate the one democratic world."

Rhee's plea came after a 65-minute morning meeting with U. S. Envoy Walter S. Robertson —their seventh secret session.

A high source said Robertson rejected Rhee's demand for more war if a post-armistice political conference doesn't agree within 90 days to unify Korea.

Discussions Continue

After the conference Robertson told newsmen:

"Our discussions are continuing. I expect to see President Rhee again."

No time has been set for the next session.

Even if Rhee and Robertson reach agreement, the UN must get the Communists to sign the truce.

The Reds apparently were ready until Rhee freed 27,000 anti-Red Korean war prisoners about three weeks ago.

Since then, they have balked stubbornly, demanding the almost-impossible recapture of all the prisoners and postive assurance of UN control over South Korea.

The UN answered the Red demands Monday and called for a quick signing of the present armistice, but there has been no official Red reply, nor any indication when they would. However, unofficially, North Korea has expressed displeasure with the UN answer.

Won't Temper Demands

In more than a week of U. S.-South Korean talks, Rhee has refused to temper his demand for a guaranteed unification of North and South Korea. The U. S. has offered to work for unification by peaceful means, but won't promise to go back to war if the political conference doesn't agree within 90 days, a high source said.

Well-informed observers predicted Robertson will start his homeward flight to Washington within a few days—successful or not. The UN has indicated it will go ahead with an armistice despite any holdout by Rhee.

(In New Delhi, close political associates said Prime Minister Nehru may urge the U. S. to act "more decisively" unless Rhee comes into line by Monday.)

Flies Back to Tokyo

Meanwhile, Robert Murphy, political adviser to UN commander Gen. Mark Clark, flew back to Tokyo after sitting in on the latest Rhee-Robertson meeting. He worked for a week with Robertson.

Even if Robertson leaves without gaining Rhee's support, the U. S. has not shut the door on South Korea. Rhee may later have a change of heart and certainly would be welcomed—even at the last minute—into the UN camp for an armistice.

But at the moment, an authoritative source stressed that Rhee is holding out for an American pledge that U. S. forces will bear arms again in Korea if the political conference fails to solve his nation's problems within 90 days.

President Eisenhower cannot furnish this pledge to Rhee in writing, the source noted. The U. S. Senate would have to ratify any such agreement.

Pleasant, Cool Weather For Fourth Is Expected

(By The Associated Press)

Pleasant and moderately cool weather was the outlook for wide areas of the country for the Fourth of July, ending a spell of hot and muggy weather.

Cooler and drier air from the Pacific today extended over the north central states from the Missouri Valley to the lower Great Lakes and as far south as southern Illinois and Indiana.

The cool front moved eastward and was expected to bring relief from the warm weather in the eastern states by tonight and tomorrow. Today was generally fair and warm in all the southern states and as far north as New York city. It was hot again in the southwest.

The cooler air dropped temperatures as much as 21 degrees in eastern Colorado yesterday. Chicago had its first pleasant night of sleeping since Monday as temperatures dropped to 64 degrees after a high of 90 yesterday.

Thundershowers were reported in several areas from western Nebraska to New England during the night. Damaging thunderstorms skipped across Pennsylvania breaking a four-day heat wave, causing thousands of dollars damage from wind and lightning. Many areas of the state were without electricity temporarily. Winds in some sections were reported as high as 85 miles an hour.

In Washington yesterday, with temperatures up to 98 degrees, nine persons were overcome by heat exhaustion. Some 15,000 federal workers were allowed to go home early. A rainstorm early last night dropped temperatures from 91 to 77 degrees.

Alliance Church Speaker Sunday

REV. J. WALTON WHIPPLE

They will speak during the Sunday school hour at 9:45 a. m. and the church service at 11 a. m. The missionaries also will talk during the evening service starting at 7:20 o'clock.

They first went to Indochina in 1937 but left due to the outbreak of war with Japan. They returned to the mission field in that country again in 1947 until they were forced to leave recently when the Communists took over much of the mission territory.

Hope to Return

Despite the difficulty of working the mission fields, both the Rev. and Mrs. Whipple are anxious to Indochina. As they put it, "that is our life."

The Whipples have three children, Ronald and Gail, 16-year-old twins born in France and 12-year-old Isabelle who was born in Indochina. The youngsters will finish their education in this country and show signs of following their parents in the mission work.

The Rev. Mr. Whipple was chairman-director of the Laos Mission in Indochina and contributed much to the success of the Christian and Missionary Alliance work there.

Your Life and Mine

THE GREAT INDEFINABLES

All of those qualities or privileges that make life worth while belong to the great family of indefinables. Who would claim to put into words an adequate definition of love or friendship or beauty? Freedom belong to this family. It is one of those precious indefinables that elude the tongue or the pen.

Freedom is the opportunity to be ourselves. It is the privilege of running our risks and responding to the call of daily duty. It is love shouldering the responsibilities of home-making. It is the chance to set our own quests. It is the opportunity to look up at the stars without fear. And so we could go on and on; adding to, but never achieving an adequate definition of freedom.

Very often by making a negative pass at great inexpressible truths we come nearer to their core of meaning than we ever can by direct attack. Freedom is that without which life on this planet is not worth while. Emerson has used this negative way of pointing up the precious necessity for freedom in one of his poems.

"To what avail, the plow or sail,
Or land, or life if freedom fail."

We talk a lot about security in these days. But too much security is exactly what the human spirit cannot stand. The slaves in the southland had security—and a cramped existence. Prisons provide security—but most of us have no hankering for the calm safety of their inhibiting walls. (I have never heard of a riot of the citizens on the outside to get in. It always seems to be the folks who are on the inside who are dissatisfied with their lot. I wonder why!)

"When God made the oyster," as another has pointed out, "He guaranteed him absolute economic and social security. He built the oyster a house, a shell, to protect him from his enemies. When hungry, the oyster simply opens his shell and the food rushes in. But when God made the eagle, He said: 'The blue sky is the limit. Go build your own house.' And the eagle went and built on the highest mountain crag where storms threaten him every day. For food he flies through miles of rain and snow and wind.

"The eagle—not the oyster—is the emblem of America."

Embryonic Finance

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—This child just might grow up doubting the old adage that "crime doesn't pay." When an expectant mother appeared in court on a reckless driving charge, Traffic Judge Phil Canale fined her $18.75. Then he added, "take that money and buy your baby a defense bond when he is born."

Prize Cadet

New London, Conn. (AP)—There wasn't much question about who was the outstanding cadet in the class of 1953 at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy. They gave out 20 prizes at commencement, and five of them went to Arnold Holmes of Dover, N. J.

Varied Industry

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—Connecticut, the nation's third smallest state in area, is represented by 74 per cent of all types of industry listed by the U. S. census bureau.

Why We Say--

. . . Above criticism

When you're, "On your high horse," you are above taking advice or listening to anyone else. The expression started from the custom of leaders (often dictators) being pictured on the highest horse so that they would appear important.

LET'S MAKE IT A SAFE INDEPENDENCE DAY

Years ago many people . . . mainly children . . . injured themselves with Fourth of July fireworks. Today, in the "safe and sane" era, hundreds of Americans . . . mainly adults . . . will be killed or injured over the holiday weekend by automobiles.

If you drive this weekend, make sure your car is in perfect condition before starting . . . then observe all the safety rules. Extra care may save your life.

OLD DUTCH CHURCH

The freedom for which our soldiers fought in Korea dates to the Declaration of Independence, back to the Revolutionary War.

The British know it goes back further, back to the plains of Runnymede when the barons wrested the Magna Charta from King John and his forces.

The Greeks say further back yet, to Marathon when their young athletes, the best in the world, as hoplites, drove back the hordes of Persia and the East.

But Israeli remembers that at the dawn of their national history it was the hope of Freedom, a pillar of fire that led their fathers out of Egyptian bondage.

Freedom is timeless. Freedom is instinctive.

Freedom, as stated by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, is man's "inalienable right."

And "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty!"

"Freedom is not free."

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Walton Whipple of Meadville, Pa., former missionaries to Indochina, will speak Sunday during two services at the Alliance Gospel Church, corner of Fair and Franklin streets.

They will speak during the Sunday school hour at 9:45 a. m. and the church service at 11 a. m. The missionaries also will talk during the evening service starting at 7:20 o'clock.

They first went to Indochina in 1937 but left due to the outbreak of war with Japan. They returned to the mission field in that country again in 1947 until they were forced to leave recently when the Communists took over much of the mission territory.

Hope to Return

Despite the difficulty of working the mission fields, both the Rev. and Mrs. Whipple are anxious to Indochina. As they put it, "that is our life."

The Whipples have three children, Ronald and Gail, 16-year-old twins born in France and 12-year-old Isabelle who was born in Indochina. The youngsters will finish their education in this country and show signs of following their parents in the mission work.

The Rev. Mr. Whipple was chairman-director of the Laos Mission in Indochina and contributed much to the success of the Christian and Missionary Alliance work there.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

THE GREAT INDEFINABLES

All of those qualities or privileges that make life worth while belong to the great family of indefinables. Who would claim to put into words an adequate definition of love or friendship or beauty? Freedom belong to this family. It is one of those precious indefinables that elude the tongue or the pen.

Freedom is the opportunity to be ourselves. It is the privilege of running our risks and responding to the call of daily duty. It is love shouldering the responsibilities of home-making. It is the chance to set our own quests. It is the opportunity to look up at the stars without fear. And so we could go on and on; adding to, but never achieving an adequate definition of freedom.

Very often by making a negative pass at great inexpressible truths we come nearer to their core of meaning than we ever can by direct attack. Freedom is that without which life on this planet is not worth while. Emerson has used this negative way of pointing up the precious necessity for freedom in one of his poems.

"To what avail, the plow or sail,
Or land, or life if freedom fail."

We talk a lot about security in these days. But too much security is exactly what the human spirit cannot stand. The slaves in the southland had security—and a cramped existence. Prisons provide security—but most of us have no hankering for the calm safety of their inhibiting walls. (I have never heard of a riot of the citizens on the outside to get in. It always seems to be the folks who are on the inside who are dissatisfied with their lot. I wonder why!)

"When God made the oyster," as another has pointed out, "He guaranteed him absolute economic and social security. He built the oyster a house, a shell, to protect him from his enemies. When hungry, the oyster simply opens his shell and the food rushes in. But when God made the eagle, He said: 'The blue sky is the limit. Go build your own house.' And the eagle went and built on the highest mountain crag where storms threaten him every day. For food he flies through miles of rain and snow and wind.

"The eagle—not the oyster—is the emblem of America."

Embryonic Finance

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—This child just might grow up doubting the old adage that "crime doesn't pay." When an expectant mother appeared in court on a reckless driving charge, Traffic Judge Phil Canale fined her $18.75. Then he added, "take that money and buy your baby a defense bond when he is born."

Prize Cadet

New London, Conn. (AP)—There wasn't much question about who was the outstanding cadet in the class of 1953 at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy. They gave out 20 prizes at commencement, and five of them went to Arnold Holmes of Dover, N. J.

Varied Industry

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—Connecticut, the nation's third smallest state in area, is represented by 74 per cent of all types of industry listed by the U. S. census bureau.

Why We Say--

When you're, "On your high horse," you are above taking advice or listening to anyone else. The expression started from the custom of leaders (often dictators) being pictured on the highest horse so that they would appear important.

The freedom for which our soldiers fought in Korea dates to the Declaration of Independence, back to the Revolutionary War.

The British know it goes back further, back to the plains of Runnymede when the barons wrested the Magna Charta from King John and his forces.

The Greeks say further back yet, to Marathon when their young athletes, the best in the world, as hoplites, drove back the hordes of Persia and the East.

But Israeli remembers that at the dawn of their national history it was the hope of Freedom, a pillar of fire that led their fathers out of Egyptian bondage.

Freedom is timeless. Freedom is instinctive.

Freedom, as stated by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, is man's "inalienable right."

And "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty!"

"Freedom is not free."

Historical Society Hears Evers' Paper

Woodstock, July 2 — The first regular meeting of the season of the Historical Society of Woodstock was held last Saturday evening at the home of Alf Evers in Lewis Hollow. Papers were read in the living room of the Evers home, prior to the outdoor picnic, by Alf Evers and Mrs. Richard E. Thibaut, Jr.

In his paper, Mr. Evers discussed the early traditions among the first Lewis Hollow settlers, including tales of snakelore. Lewis Hollow always has been noted for its rattlesnakes.

"We are not," Mr. Evers said, "in a state of seige up here, surrounded by reptiles!" He did, however, mention having seen quite a few of them, and told of the old settlers' habit of keeping a barrel full of them outside the kitchen door "to amuse the children with," as well as other anecdotes.

Some of these stories were contributed by one of the very early Lewis Hollow-ites, who declared that his stories were true.

Mr. Evers paper was received with enthusiastic approval by members of the Society as a classic of Americana and it is hoped that it will be incorporated in some forthcoming booklet of the Woodstock Historical Society.

Mrs. Thibaut read a paper on the Lawrence Shultis farm in Bearsville, the text of which appeared in this column of the Freeman last March.

Following the meeting a picnic supper was served on the lawn.

First Juried Group Opens at Art Gallery

Woodstock, July 2—The first juried group show of the season opened last Saturday afternoon at the Woodstock Art Gallery sponsored by the Woodstock Artists Association. Among the works noted were Robert Angelock's Elba: Rocks and Sea, unique in composition and Morris Klein's sparkling watercolor, Reflections In Red. Ainslie Burke's Day's Burden is tragic and telling in its strong deliniation and there is a brilliant mosaic of color in Ethel S. Leventhal's The Cloisters. An angular study is to be found in Ether Magafan's The Fisherman as opposed to the subtle molded angular study is to be found in Eugene Speicher's Yvonne.

In Boat in Harbor Bruce Currie employs his characteristic use of flat planes and deftly arranged color values. Gaiety and humor are the keynotes of Phoebe Towbin's rollickling Donkey Races in the Virgin Isles teeming with her peculiarly engaging little figures and vivid color.

The new gallery arrangement, which adds immeasurably to the presentation of the shows, was planned by a committee composed of Fletcher Martin, chairman, Daniel Revzan who designed the new set-up, and Reginald Wilson.

Serving as hostesses at the opening reception were Mrs. Charles Sheldon, Mrs. Nat Berens, Miss Miriam Freeman, Miss Adele Lowenstein, Miss Mary Ann Sheldon and James Sheldon. The refreshments were made by Ruella James.

Adam Schreiner, of Wittenberg, retiring president was given a vote of thanks by the members for the fine work he had accomplished during the past year.

The Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club has gone on record as opposing the closing of the small game season during the big game season. The club is in favor of a split season on partridge.

Dive Bombing Owl

Burlington, Vt. (AP)—And the wise old owl ate chicken! This owl had a wing spread of four feet, two inches and he crash-dived through a window in the Fanny Allen Hospital chicken house and killed 286 six-week-old chicks. When William Ashey, poultry specialist at the hospital farm, opened the door the owl picked him for a target. However, the owl lost the decision. Ashey managed to break the bird's neck with a broom.

Finds He's Wanted

Burbank, Calif. (AP)—An 18 year old Dallas, Texas fugitive, wanted on suspicion of several burglaries, called the local police to see if anyone wanted him for arrest. Assured that he was wanted, the young man put the receiver back on the hook, opened the telephone booth door to leave. On hand to greet him were two detectives—with handcuffs.

Historical Society Hears Evers' Paper

Woodstock, July 2 — The first regular meeting of the season of the Historical Society of Woodstock was held last Saturday evening at the home of Alf Evers in Lewis Hollow. Papers were read in the living room of the Evers home, prior to the outdoor picnic, by Alf Evers and Mrs. Richard E. Thibaut, Jr.

In his paper, Mr. Evers discussed the early traditions among the first Lewis Hollow settlers, including tales of snakelore. Lewis Hollow always has been noted for its rattlesnakes.

"We are not," Mr. Evers said, "in a state of seige up here, surrounded by reptiles!" He did, however, mention having seen quite a few of them, and told of the old settlers' habit of keeping a barrel full of them outside the kitchen door "to amuse the children with," as well as other anecdotes.

Some of these stories were contributed by one of the very early Lewis Hollow-ites, who declared that his stories were true.

Mr. Evers paper was received with enthusiastic approval by members of the Society as a classic of Americana and it is hoped that it will be incorporated in some forthcoming booklet of the Woodstock Historical Society.

Mrs. Thibaut read a paper on the Lawrence Shultis farm in Bearsville, the text of which appeared in this column of the Freeman last March.

Following the meeting a picnic supper was served on the lawn.

First Juried Group Opens at Art Gallery

Woodstock, July 2—The first juried group show of the season opened last Saturday afternoon at the Woodstock Art Gallery sponsored by the Woodstock Artists Association. Among the works noted were Robert Angelock's Elba: Rocks and Sea, unique in composition and Morris Klein's sparkling watercolor, Reflections In Red. Ainslie Burke's Day's Burden is tragic and telling in its strong deliniation and there is a brilliant mosaic of color in Ethel S. Leventhal's The Cloisters. An angular study is to be found in Ether Magafan's The Fisherman as opposed to the subtle molded angular study is to be found in Eugene Speicher's Yvonne.

In Boat in Harbor Bruce Currie employs his characteristic use of flat planes and deftly arranged color values. Gaiety and humor are the keynotes of Phoebe Towbin's rollickling Donkey Races in the Virgin Isles teeming with her peculiarly engaging little figures and vivid color.

The new gallery arrangement, which adds immeasurably to the presentation of the shows, was planned by a committee composed of Fletcher Martin, chairman, Daniel Revzan who designed the new set-up, and Reginald Wilson.

Serving as hostesses at the opening reception were Mrs. Charles Sheldon, Mrs. Nat Berens, Miss Miriam Freeman, Miss Adele Lowenstein, Miss Mary Ann Sheldon and James Sheldon. The refreshments were made by Ruella James.

Adam Schreiner, of Wittenberg, retiring president was given a vote of thanks by the members for the fine work he had accomplished during the past year.

The Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club has gone on record as opposing the closing of the small game season during the big game season. The club is in favor of a split season on partridge.

Dive Bombing Owl

Burlington, Vt. (AP)—And the wise old owl ate chicken! This owl had a wing spread of four feet, two inches and he crash-dived through a window in the Fanny Allen Hospital chicken house and killed 286 six-week-old chicks. When William Ashey, poultry specialist at the hospital farm, opened the door the owl picked him for a target. However, the owl lost the decision. Ashey managed to break the bird's neck with a broom.

Finds He's Wanted

Burbank, Calif. (AP)—An 18 year old Dallas, Texas fugitive, wanted on suspicion of several burglaries, called the local police to see if anyone wanted him for arrest. Assured that he was wanted, the young man put the receiver back on the hook, opened the telephone booth door to leave. On hand to greet him were two detectives—with handcuffs.

Presidents John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison, Theodore Roosevelt, and Woodrow Wilson each married twice.

TO PRESERVE INDEPENDENCE

The independence we declared on this day in 1776 is our most prized possession. We have defended it against enemies many times, and we may have to do it again one day.

In spite of all the lessons of the past, there are some among us who imagine we could do this alone. They seem to conceive that isolation is an inescapable corollary of independence.

Isolation may have been a happy and perfectly natural state for America in its early decades. But the conditions favorable to that state disappeared long ago.

Even if they had not vanished before, they would have by the close of World War II. The atom bomb, the guided missile, the long-range bomber and the rise of Russia as the greatest land power ever to straddle the Eurasian continent, all these helped to make isolationism an empty myth.

So it is that we have entered, through NATO and other arrangements, the firmest peacetime commitments to our allies ever recorded in our history. They are the realistic measure of the size and power of the enemy, and the nature of modern warfare.

Since we and our friends are all free and independent, we are of course free to disagree. We often irritate our allies, and they in turn annoy us. Sometimes the rifts seem serious, and then excitable men talk of going separate ways.

But we have to realize these disagreements are the mark of real freedom. We must find a formula for unity sturdy enough to absorb these inevitable shocks. For the only other kind is that which the Russians impose upon their satellites—the unity of dread conformity enforced at gun point.

We have to understand, too, that the price of disunity among the free peoples—nationalist "independence" is what some would call it—could be death to liberty everywhere. Each free land then would be compelled to garrison itself against the certain test with the enemy, and, separate, each might fall. Not even the greatest of all the free powers, the United States, could surely stand out against the marauder.

This is not an ugly dream, but the reality we would face if we turned away from our friends. That would not be independence. It would be more like solitary confinement.

CENTENARIAN CITIZEN

A 100-year-old New York man, who was born in Minsk, Russia, is seeking his citizenship papers. He came to this country at the age of 77. His friends and relatives advised him against trying to become a citizen—they thought he would not live to accomplish that goal. Now he knows they were wrong and he intends to delay no longer.

American citizenship is a proud status. Some of us who are born with it never fully realize how precious it is. Those who become citizens by pledging their heart and loyalty to the things America stands for often know too well what it means to live in countries where freedom does not exist.

Nor is age any barrier to good citizenship. The 100-year-old man may still have much to contribute to his adopted land. If nothing else his example may inspire his fellow citizens to a greater appreciation of the blessings which are too often taken for granted.

Everyone eats well on a picnic—especially the mosquitoes.

HELP FOR THE HELPLESS

Helpless invalids will get a break from a thoughtful charity conceived by a paralyzed, blind and legless Nova Scotian. Walter Callow has received a charter from Parliament to use special wheel-chair coaches anywhere in Canada to take shut-ins to picnic and ball games or on rides. He hopes that by 1955 he will have 80 to 90 such coaches operating in Canada and 300 in the United States.

This might be a good venture to copy, as the Callow plan may take some time before it reaches much of the United States. It should also remind people that even if they do not have special wheel-chair coaches, they probably have crippled or sick friends who would appreciate a ride in the open.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

INDEPENDENCE DAY, 1953

The Fourth of July is not, for me, a day to get into a car to go somewhere on a crowded, dangerous road. It is, for me, a religious day consecrated to the birth of my nation; a day of prayer and decision.

I am not a citizen of the world. I do not belong to the United Nations. I am not pro-British, or pro-French, or pro this or that country. I am exclusively and totally an American, coursing my once alien roots deeply into the tradition and philosophy of the land in which I was born by the incidence of my parents' immigration.

Some object to loyalty oaths. I come of a people in whose tradition it is daily to affirm loyalty to God. The resounding prayer, the Shma, is an oath of loyalty to God spoken on going to bed and in the morning prayers and it is put on the doorpost of each room.

Similarly an affirmation of loyalty to one's country is a tonic, a reminder of responsibility. It is often done by those who recite the "Pledge of Allegiance." If some of our young men and women who wandered into Marxian morasses had only halted long enough to say the words, "I am an American," they might have faltered, or even turned back, on a road that can only lead to social ostracism, prison, or the electric chair.

"I am an American" is an affirmation of nationality, of belonging, of obligation, of responsibility. For too many Americans, association with this nation is just a question of what can be got out of it—a high standard of living, free schools, free lunches, busses to take the children to school, bonuses for veterans, subsidies for industry, for farmers, for workers. Of course, much that is beneficial can be got out of America.

Was Daniel Webster less the American because he had no automobile? Was Abraham Lincoln less the American because he lacked a fancy bathroom set? Was Congress less American when the representatives of the people traveled to it in stagecoaches or on horseback?

If America is only a convenient place to live, it is not worth-while. It must be, it is more than that. It is an ideal, a hope. It is freedom for man; it is liberty for the individual. It is the human aspiration that makes the erect man stand in the dignity of his own person. That ideal is unchanged in the 177 years since Thomas Jefferson penned the glorious preamble to the Declaration of Independence.

To that ideal the founders of our nation pledged their sacred honor and risked their lives. We have now all the benefits of their achievements. But are we contributing to the strengthening of this nation for the generations that are to succeed us?

How does one contribute to national strength? The first necessity is unswerving loyalty. "I am an American," becomes not a jumble of words but an article of faith. Love of country dictates its own obligations.

There are those who sarcastically use the phrase, "super-patriots," or "200 per cent Americans." There are no percentages in love. One does not fractionate the love for a mother. One does not say that he loves his infant 68.4 per cent. Love is total. It is the most complete emotion. It bespeaks a final acceptance of responsibility and a supreme devotion.

Whoever ridicules patriotism has, in his heart, a rejection of love for America. I recall years ago seeing a Japanese, who was about to leave his country, fill a little wooden box with the soil of Japan. So intense was his love of country that he carried its soil with him, as a loving husband carries a photograph of his wife. He said to me, "Wherever I shall be on the earth's surface, I shall always have a little of Japan with me."

At that time, I had been away from my native land and I was so deeply moved that I asked myself whether I am a lesser man than this Japanese, whether I as less capable of intense and supreme love of country.

This thought comes back to me on the eve of July 4, 1953, when we are beset by war, challenged by treason, confused by internationalism. On such a day, let us simply say, "I am an American!" and pray God's blessing.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

IMPORTANCE OF WEIGHT TO HEALTH

For many years I have been writing a weekly article on weight; it is called, "Your Health and Your Weight," because reliable statistics show that nearly half the population in Canada and the United States is overweight.

So important has this matter of overweight and underweight become in the opinion of physicians and our government bodies that National Weight-Height Surveys are now being made, the first one being made in Canada.

In the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association, we read: "A national survey designed to find out the average weights for Canadians of different heights and ages has been begun. Organized by the Nutrition Division in cooperation with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the survey will cover a sample of Canada's population of all ages, heights, weights and racial extractions in various parts of the country. The persons, several thousands in number, whose weight will be checked will have been picked by statistical selection to provide a representative sample of the entire Canadian population. Cities, towns and country areas will be included."

It so happens that the familiar weight-height tables in common use in schools and doctors' offices are based on studies in other countries with a limited number of people. Most of the studies were made 30 or 40 years ago and are of unknown value in their application to the population as a whole. Lack of distinctive Canadian standards is a handicap in nutritional studies, as weight and weight changes may be the most important single clue to the real physical condition of a person.

When the study is completed, within the present year, the results should provide an up-to-date table showing how the weight of an individual Canadian of a certain height, age and sex compares with the average weight of other Canadians of the same height, age and sex.

The World Health Organization and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, in their endeavor to raise the standard of health in all countries, has been trying to have various nations make this weight survey and Canada is believed to be one of the first countries to act on these recommendations. This present Canadian survey has the endorsement of the Dominion Council of Health and the Canadian Council on Nutrition with the cooperation of provincial and local health authorities.

This health survey, emphasizing the importance of weight to health, should make us all weight conscious, whether we are overweight or underweight for height, age and sex.

Overweight and Underweight

There are many helpful suggestions on both reducing and gaining weight in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Overweight and Underweight" which may be obtained by sending 25 cents, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

"Couldn't We Celebrate Quietly, Son?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NAA)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was completing testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee. He had given a statement on the need for extending the Trade Agreements act for another year.

The chairman of a committee asked the members if there were any final questions. When they were all taken care of, the chairman said the secretary would be excused, to go back to work. Then he added gratuitously:

"It must be terrible to have to work among all those homosexuals."

The secretary let it pass. He might have put in a word that not all of the 32,000 employes in the department he now heads were that way. But one "homo" in any community is too many, so he ignored it.

Maybe the congressman meant it as a joke. Maybe he was taking a well-aimed crack at the administration which hadn't taken any too kindly to some of the congressman's pet proposals.

But maybe he was expressing his honest convictions. A lot of people around the country have the mistaken idea that's the way things are at the State Department. This belief is probably more widespread throughout the country than in Washington. But people outside of Washington indignantly demand that something be done to clean it up.

For that very reason, an authoritative report on this subject is in order. A frank statement of facts should do something towards checking exaggerations and false rumors. It might help restore to the State Department the good name, national and international respect to which it is entitled.

Not Scandal Story

This dispatch is written with that perspective. It is intended to be neither a scandal story nor an expose. It merely presents the releasable and printable facts as given to this reporter by qualified authorities.

The danger in this situation, as has been explained many times before, is that a pervert is vulnerable to blackmail. Anyone discovered in those practices can be coerced—into, say, spying for an enemy country or disclosing U. S. government secret information—under threat of exposure. Exposure, of course, leads to firing.

Perversion is an ancient sin. Armies and navies have always know it. From the days of one of America's most successful revolutionary ambassadors, who wrote frank confessions about it, there have probably always been some perverts in diplomatic service.

It is a natural hiding place. Moving from country to country helps hide records. And in many foreign countries such practices are not regarded as they are in this country.

In the 1930's the Inspection Service of the U. S. State Department began to get an increasing number of reports of homosexuality among overseas personnel. The reports ran the gamut from ministers to couriers.

Up to January, 1951, these reports were regarded as something dealing with an individual's private life, and they were not explored. They were considered as negative suitability factors for promotion, but they were not considered as security factors.

Secret Survey

Late in 1950 a Senate Investigating Committee under Sen. Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina, made a secret hearing investigation of perversion among government employes. It disclosed that from January, 1947, to October, 1950, the U. S. armed services had separated 4,380 individuals for homosexuality.

In the same period, 574 cases were reported in the civilian agencies of government. Of these, 207 were dismissed from government service, 213 resigned, 85 were cleared and 69 cases were pending at the time the report was made.

Of these cases, 143 were in the State Department, 101 in the Veterans' Administration, 49 in the Department of Commerce, 32 in Agriculture, 31 Interior, 27 Economic Cooperation, 22 Federal Security Agency, 23 Treasury, 18 Civil Service Commission, 15 Library of Commerce, 19 General Services Administration, 13 General Accounting Office, 10 Housing and Home Finance Agency. The rest were scattered in 23 other agencies, none of which had more than eight.

This summary brings the situation down to 1953, when the new administration came into office with a promise to "clean out the State Department."

In July, 1950, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa received an anonymous letter listing 18 high employes of the State Department as homosexuals.

In addition three other names were given as known homosexuals and friends of the 18. The inference was given that anyone closely associated with the three—who were not in the State Department—must be suspect. That made 21 names in all.

The Confession

Senator Hickenlooper turned his letter over to the FBI and State Department security officers. Investigation proved that 19 of the 21 were guilty. Confronted with the charge, the 19 confessed their guilt.

Some of them were among the highest officers in the career, U. S. Foreign Service. They were men with brilliant minds and exceptional records. They had been devoted public servants and there has never been any suspicion or charge of disloyalty placed against any of them.

As of this writing, all 19 of the 21 have been separated from government service or are on their way out. Five of the 19 were former employes not in the State Department at the time.

John W. Ford, director of the Office of Security in the State Department, says that since Jan. 1, 1947, there have been 485 cases reported among State Department employes. It was only in 1947 that the department began keeping records.

Many of these records are now incomplete. Many of the individuals have died, or retired or resigned from government service. When a separation took place the record was closed, even if incomplete. So there is no accurate check of the number of cases still in service.

Many Resignations

It is announced, however, that since March 3, when Scott McLeod took over as Security Administrator, resignations have been accepted at the average of over 100 in four months.

Mr. McLeod says that every allegation is now being investigated. He is realistic enough not to predict that the situation will ever be completely eradicated.

McLeod, an ex-FBI man, now promises to run down every lead and not to ignore such allegations in the future. Now, for the first time, President Eisenhower's new security order of April 29 sets up the criteria which make it possible to separate a pervert from government service.

Senate Seems to Have Followed 'Mandate' Of Public in Acting on Foreign Aid

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 3—Every now and then the American citizen reverts to type—an instinctive nationalism. Members of Congress are quick to recognize a basic trend in the thinking of the American people and to follow their mandate.

This is an explanation which best fits the action of the United States Senate this week in ordering all foreign aid to be cut off on a fixed date—two years more of spending, plus one year to wind up economic-aid spending and another year to liquidate military obligations already made.

Such a step was a logical sequel to the election of last November when the American people manifested their irritation over the unlimited spending proclivities of the Truman Administration.

Europeans, however, will ascribe the move to Senator McCarthy. They have, curiously enough, come to believe, as a result of exaggerations in their own press, that he is the American "dictator" and is as powerful as President Eisenhower. Even so prominent and presumably well-informed a Briton as former Prime Minister Attlee thinks that's true.

But the Europeans need only to examine the record to find out that some folks—maybe some "liberal" Americans—have been misleading them by their over-emphasis on "McCarthyism." Indeed, many Americans returning from abroad lately have reported that almost everywhere they heard anti-American talk and they thought it had something to do with McCarthy.

Actually there has been anti-Americanism in Europe for entirely different reasons, only it has become expedient to blame it on McCarthy's rough-and-tumble tactics in his crusade against Communists. The real reason that Europeans have become anti-American is the same as often happens when one lends money to a friend. It produces bad feeling, especially when signs begin to appear that lending is about to be cut down or terminated. That is why Adlai Stevenson, expected to be "liberal" with American money if elected, was hailed with such enthusiasm in Europe's newspapers last autumn, while Eisenhower, who previously had been so popular there, was immediately characterized as a "captive" of Taft and of an "isolationist" party.

The Senate action in cutting off foreign aid at the end of two years, with a final liquidation date, was initiated by Senator Mansfield, Democrat, of Montana, who could hardly be called an "isolationist." His motion was concurred in by the acting leader of the Republican party, Senator Knowland of California, presumably with the President's consent, and the result was a unanimous vote. On this same occasion, Senator George of Georgia, one of the most venerable men in the Senate and a former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when the Democrats controlled Congress, rose to say he would never again vote for any foreign-aid bill.

This was a bipartisan demonstration of American sentiment. It could only have come to such a dramatic climax as a result of the nation-wide disgust with the way some of our European allies have behaved in recent months. Senators do not feel they now have to add to the fires of criticism by giving a list of particulars, but Europe's tendency to lay down on the job with respect to NATO and the European defense treaties—to say nothing of the kibitizing done on the way the Korean war should be fought while America furnished the bulk of the troops there—did not sit well with American legislators.

There will be some who will dissent from such an analysis and will attribute the Senate vote entirely to the tendency of the American people to call it quits on foreign spending because taxes are high in America and not because they think somebody else is taking advantage of their altruism and generosity.

But, whatever the true reason, the fact remains that the sentiment of the American people was reflected in the Senate's vote this week. Europeans, who have been warned again and again in these dispatches that they were not getting from some of their American correspondents a balanced view of American feeling, now may see clearly that the United States Congress, with the outspoken support of both parties, feels that Europe must promptly begin to rehabilitate itself. This goes for economic as well as military aid of all kinds.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The confident impudence of Harry Truman in swaggering about New York after his brief visit to Washington is depressing evidence that the Communist enemies of this republic and of the moral basis on which it used to stand, continue to win. Otherwise, Truman surely must be detested by patriots loyal to the Constitution and to the religious principles which imbued the government of the nation at the beginning and for a long time later.

This is the man who said he liked old Joe Stalin and carried on in the "tradition" of Roosevelt, shielding the imbedded treason with his mocking snarl of "Red Herring" right down to the conviction of Alger Hiss.

Taxi drivers are sometimes carelessly regarded as typical, ordinary Americans. Let it be hoped that this is a harmless fiction, for the unidentified hackman who was said to have called out to Truman that he could be elected again tomorrow expressed a callous cynicism. He glibly ignored the treachery in the government under both Truman and Roosevelt. It may be true that Truman or Stevenson could be elected tomorrow. Morbid as the idea is, it is by no means fantastic. The flippancy, the cocky contempt which Roosevelt and Truman showed toward the pathetically earnest alarmists of the element which might fairly be called the loyalists, surely does strike an approving response in other persons than selected and possibly fictitious taxi drivers.

I have been closely concerned for about 16 years in the expose of treason under Roosevelt's patronage and later under Truman's. I ask myself what can be done now, after all the revelations of hideous disloyalty to our wonderful nation, to arouse in the people a fear and loathing of all concerned, including those who were guilty of failure to break it up.

Why is it that Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt, to name two of the most defiant and, with good ground, most self-confident personalities in the scenario, still command a public and a forum of mighty propaganda, while Louis Budenz, to name one of the bravest apostates, is heard by only a small circle of people who do not need persuading. To have deserved a friendly hail from any loyal American capable of understanding the facts, Truman should not have let the House Committee and the Senate Committees represented by Joe McCarthy and Pat McCarran bear the whole burden of proof. He should have put love of country above love of a miserable band of scoundrels ranging from paltry five percenters to great bureaucrats in the State and Justice Departments. He should have been heartily willing to destroy his party, if necessary, to rout the traitors. Instead, he pretended that the condition which Roosevelt knowingly encouraged to thrive was nothing more than the conjuring of covetous and unstable political enemies.

Mrs. Roosevelt's record is so bad that the public complaisance is an alarming symptom of fatalism. Far from hiding or apologizing, this brazen old woman, who never had as much as one single vote for

The independence we declared on this day in 1776 is our most prized possession. We have defended it against enemies many times, and we may have to do it again one day.

In spite of all the lessons of the past, there are some among us who imagine we could do this alone. They seem to conceive that isolation is an inescapable corollary of independence.

Isolation may have been a happy and perfectly natural state for America in its early decades. But the conditions favorable to that state disappeared long ago.

Even if they had not vanished before, they would have by the close of World War II. The atom bomb, the guided missile, the long-range bomber and the rise of Russia as the greatest land power ever to straddle the Eurasian continent, all these helped to make isolationism an empty myth.

So it is that we have entered, through NATO and other arrangements, the firmest peacetime commitments to our allies ever recorded in our history. They are the realistic measure of the size and power of the enemy, and the nature of modern warfare.

Since we and our friends are all free and independent, we are of course free to disagree. We often irritate our allies, and they in turn annoy us. Sometimes the rifts seem serious, and then excitable men talk of going separate ways.

But we have to realize these disagreements are the mark of real freedom. We must find a formula for unity sturdy enough to absorb these inevitable shocks. For the only other kind is that which the Russians impose upon their satellites—the unity of dread conformity enforced at gun point.

We have to understand, too, that the price of disunity among the free peoples—nationalist "independence" is what some would call it—could be death to liberty everywhere. Each free land then would be compelled to garrison itself against the certain test with the enemy, and, separate, each might fall. Not even the greatest of all the free powers, the United States, could surely stand out against the marauder.

This is not an ugly dream, but the reality we would face if we turned away from our friends. That would not be independence. It would be more like solitary confinement.

CENTENARIAN CITIZEN

A 100-year-old New York man, who was born in Minsk, Russia, is seeking his citizenship papers. He came to this country at the age of 77. His friends and relatives advised him against trying to become a citizen—they thought he would not live to accomplish that goal. Now he knows they were wrong and he intends to delay no longer.

American citizenship is a proud status. Some of us who are born with it never fully realize how precious it is. Those who become citizens by pledging their heart and loyalty to the things America stands for often know too well what it means to live in countries where freedom does not exist.

Nor is age any barrier to good citizenship. The 100-year-old man may still have much to contribute to his adopted land. If nothing else his example may inspire his fellow citizens to a greater appreciation of the blessings which are too often taken for granted.

Everyone eats well on a picnic—especially the mosquitoes.

HELP FOR THE HELPLESS

Helpless invalids will get a break from a thoughtful charity conceived by a paralyzed, blind and legless Nova Scotian. Walter Callow has received a charter from Parliament to use special wheel-chair coaches anywhere in Canada to take shut-ins to picnic and ball games or on rides. He hopes that by 1955 he will have 80 to 90 such coaches operating in Canada and 300 in the United States. This might be a good venture to copy, as the Callow plan may take some time before it reaches much of the United States. It should also remind people that even if they do not have special wheel-chair coaches, they probably have crippled or sick friends who would appreciate a ride in the open.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

INDEPENDENCE DAY, 1953

The Fourth of July is not, for me, a day to get into a car to go somewhere on a crowded, dangerous road. It is, for me, a religious day consecrated to the birth of my nation; a day of prayer and decision.

I am not a citizen of the world. I do not belong to the United Nations. I am not pro-British, or pro-French, or pro this or that country. I am exclusively and totally an American, coursing my once alien roots deeply into the tradition and philosophy of the land in which I was born by the incidence of my parents' immigration.

Some object to loyalty oaths. I come of a people in whose tradition it is daily to affirm loyalty to God. The resounding prayer, the Shma, is an oath of loyalty to God spoken on going to bed and in the morning prayers and it is put on the doorpost of each room.

Similarly an affirmation of loyalty to one's country is a tonic, a reminder of responsibility. It is often done by those who recite the "Pledge of Allegiance." If some of our young men and women who wandered into Marxian morasses had only halted long enough to say the words, "I am an American," they might have faltered, or even turned back, on a road that can only lead to social ostracism, prison, or the electric chair.

"I am an American" is an affirmation of nationality, of belonging, of obligation, of responsibility. For too many Americans, association with this nation is just a question of what can be got out of it—a high standard of living, free schools, free lunches, busses to take the children to school, bonuses for veterans, subsidies for industry, for farmers, for workers. Of course, much that is beneficial can be got out of America.

Was Daniel Webster less the American because he had no automobile? Was Abraham Lincoln less the American because he lacked a fancy bathroom set? Was Congress less American when the representatives of the people traveled to it in stagecoaches or on horseback?

If America is only a convenient place to live, it is not worth-while. It must be, it is more than that. It is an ideal, a hope. It is freedom for man; it is liberty for the individual. It is the human aspiration that makes the erect man stand in the dignity of his own person. That ideal is unchanged in the 177 years since Thomas Jefferson penned the glorious preamble to the Declaration of Independence.

To that ideal the founders of our nation pledged their sacred honor and risked their lives. We have now all the benefits of their achievements. But are we contributing to the strengthening of this nation for the generations that are to succeed us?

How does one contribute to national strength? The first necessity is unswerving loyalty. "I am an American," becomes not a jumble of words but an article of faith. Love of country dictates its own obligations.

There are those who sarcastically use the phrase, "super-patriots," or "200 per cent Americans." There are no percentages in love. One does not fractionate the love for a mother. One does not say that he loves his infant 68.4 per cent. Love is total. It is the most complete emotion. It bespeaks a final acceptance of responsibility and a supreme devotion.

Whoever ridicules patriotism has, in his heart, a rejection of love for America. I recall years ago seeing a Japanese, who was about to leave his country, fill a little wooden box with the soil of Japan. So intense was his love of country that he carried its soil with him, as a loving husband carries a photograph of his wife. He said to me, "Wherever I shall be on the earth's surface, I shall always have a little of Japan with me."

At that time, I had been away from my native land and I was so deeply moved that I asked myself whether I am a lesser man than this Japanese, whether I as less capable of intense and supreme love of country.

This thought comes back to me on the eve of July 4, 1953, when we are beset by war, challenged by treason, confused by internationalism. On such a day, let us simply say, "I am an American!" and pray God's blessing.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

IMPORTANCE OF WEIGHT TO HEALTH

For many years I have been writing a weekly article on weight; it is called, "Your Health and Your Weight," because reliable statistics show that nearly half the population in Canada and the United States is overweight.

So important has this matter of overweight and underweight become in the opinion of physicians and our government bodies that National Weight-Height Surveys are now being made, the first one being made in Canada.

In the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association, we read: "A national survey designed to find out the average weights for Canadians of different heights and ages has been begun. Organized by the Nutrition Division in cooperation with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the survey will cover a sample of Canada's population of all ages, heights, weights and racial extractions in various parts of the country. The persons, several thousands in number, whose weight will be checked will have been picked by statistical selection to provide a representative sample of the entire Canadian population. Cities, towns and country areas will be included."

It so happens that the familiar weight-height tables in common use in schools and doctors' offices are based on studies in other countries with a limited number of people. Most of the studies were made 30 or 40 years ago and are of unknown value in their application to the population as a whole. Lack of distinctive Canadian standards is a handicap in nutritional studies, as weight and weight changes may be the most important single clue to the real physical condition of a person.

When the study is completed, within the present year, the results should provide an up-to-date table showing how the weight of an individual Canadian of a certain height, age and sex compares with the average weight of other Canadians of the same height, age and sex.

The World Health Organization and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, in their endeavor to raise the standard of health in all countries, has been trying to have various nations make this weight survey and Canada is believed to be one of the first countries to act on these recommendations. This present Canadian survey has the endorsement of the Dominion Council of Health and the Canadian Council on Nutrition with the cooperation of provincial and local health authorities.

This health survey, emphasizing the importance of weight to health, should make us all weight conscious, whether we are overweight or underweight for height, age and sex.

Overweight and Underweight

"Couldn't We Celebrate Quietly, Son?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NAA)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was completing testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee. He had given a statement on the need for extending the Trade Agreements act for another year.

The chairman of a committee asked the members if there were any final questions. When they were all taken care of, the chairman said the secretary would be excused, to go back to work. Then he added gratuitously:

"It must be terrible to have to work among all those homosexuals."

The secretary let it pass. He might have put in a word that not all of the 32,000 employes in the department he now heads were that way. But one "homo" in any community is too many, so he ignored it.

Maybe the congressman meant it as a joke. Maybe he was taking a well-aimed crack at the administration which hadn't taken any too kindly to some of the congressman's pet proposals.

But maybe he was expressing his honest convictions. A lot of people around the country have the mistaken idea that's the way things are at the State Department. This belief is probably more widespread throughout the country than in Washington. But people outside of Washington indignantly demand that something be done to clean it up.

For that very reason, an authoritative report on this subject is in order. A frank statement of facts should do something towards checking exaggerations and false rumors. It might help restore to the State Department the good name, national and international respect to which it is entitled.

Not Scandal Story

This dispatch is written with that perspective. It is intended to be neither a scandal story nor an expose. It merely presents the releasable and printable facts as given to this reporter by qualified authorities.

The danger in this situation, as has been explained many times before, is that a pervert is vulnerable to blackmail. Anyone discovered in those practices can be coerced—into, say, spying for an enemy country or disclosing U. S. government secret information—under threat of exposure. Exposure, of course, leads to firing.

Perversion is an ancient sin. Armies and navies have always know it. From the days of one of America's most successful revolutionary ambassadors, who wrote frank confessions about it, there have probably always been some perverts in diplomatic service.

It is a natural hiding place. Moving from country to country helps hide records. And in many foreign countries such practices are not regarded as they are in this country.

In the 1930's the Inspection Service of the U. S. State Department began to get an increasing number of reports of homosexuality among overseas personnel. The reports ran the gamut from ministers to couriers.

Up to January, 1951, these reports were regarded as something dealing with an individual's private life, and they were not explored. They were considered as negative suitability factors for promotion, but they were not considered as security factors.

Secret Survey

Late in 1950 a Senate Investigating Committee under Sen. Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina, made a secret hearing investigation of perversion among government employes. It disclosed that from January, 1947, to October, 1950, the U. S. armed services had separated 4,380 individuals for homosexuality.

In the same period, 574 cases were reported in the civilian agencies of government. Of these, 207 were dismissed from government service, 213 resigned, 85 were cleared and 69 cases were pending at the time the report was made.

Of these cases, 143 were in the State Department, 101 in the Veterans' Administration, 49 in the Department of Commerce, 32 in Agriculture, 31 Interior, 27 Economic Cooperation, 22 Federal Security Agency, 23 Treasury, 18 Civil Service Commission, 15 Library of Commerce, 19 General Services Administration, 13 General Accounting Office, 10 Housing and Home Finance Agency. The rest were scattered in 23 other agencies, none of which had more than eight.

This summary brings the situation down to 1953, when the new administration came into office with a promise to "clean out the State Department."

In July, 1950, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa received an anonymous letter listing 18 high employes of the State Department as homosexuals.

In addition three other names were given as known homosexuals and friends of the 18. The inference was given that anyone closely associated with the three—who were not in the State Department—must be suspect. That made 21 names in all.

The Confession

Senator Hickenlooper turned his letter over to the FBI and State Department security officers. Investigation proved that 19 of the 21 were guilty. Confronted with the charge, the 19 confessed their guilt.

Some of them were among the highest officers in the career, U. S. Foreign Service. They were men with brilliant minds and exceptional records. They had been devoted public servants and there has never been any suspicion or charge of disloyalty placed against any of them.

As of this writing, all 19 of the 21 have been separated from government service or are on their way out. Five of the 19 were former employes not in the State Department at the time.

John W. Ford, director of the Office of Security in the State Department, says that since Jan. 1, 1947, there have been 485 cases reported among State Department employes. It was only in 1947 that the department began keeping records.

Many of these records are now incomplete. Many of the individuals have died, or retired or resigned from government service. When a separation took place the record was closed, even if incomplete. So there is no accurate check of the number of cases still in service.

Many Resignations

It is announced, however, that since March 3, when Scott McLeod took over as Security Administrator, resignations have been accepted at the average of over 100 in four months.

Mr. McLeod says that every allegation is now being investigated. He is realistic enough not to predict that the situation will ever be completely eradicated.

McLeod, an ex-FBI man, now promises to run down every lead and not to ignore such allegations in the future. Now, for the first time, President Eisenhower's new security order of April 29 sets up the criteria which make it possible to separate a pervert from government service.

Such a step was a logical sequel to the election of last November when the American people manifested their irritation over the unlimited spending proclivities of the Truman Administration.

Europeans, however, will ascribe the move to Senator McCarthy. They have, curiously enough, come to believe, as a result of exaggerations in their own press, that he is the American "dictator" and is as powerful as President Eisenhower. Even so prominent and presumably well-informed a Briton as former Prime Minister Attlee thinks that's true.

But the Europeans need only to examine the record to find out that some folks—maybe some "liberal" Americans—have been misleading them by their over-emphasis on "McCarthyism." Indeed, many Americans returning from abroad lately have reported that almost everywhere they heard anti-American talk and they thought it had something to do with McCarthy.

Actually there has been anti-Americanism in Europe for entirely different reasons, only it has become expedient to blame it on McCarthy's rough-and-tumble tactics in his crusade against Communists. The real reason that Europeans have become anti-American is the same as often happens when one lends money to a friend. It produces bad feeling, especially when signs begin to appear that lending is about to be cut down or terminated. That is why Adlai Stevenson, expected to be "liberal" with American money if elected, was hailed with such enthusiasm in Europe's newspapers last autumn, while Eisenhower, who previously had been so popular there, was immediately characterized as a "captive" of Taft and of an "isolationist" party.

The Senate action in cutting off foreign aid at the end of two years, with a final liquidation date, was initiated by Senator Mansfield, Democrat, of Montana, who could hardly be called an "isolationist." His motion was concurred in by the acting leader of the Republican party, Senator Knowland of California, presumably with the President's consent, and the result was a unanimous vote. On this same occasion, Senator George of Georgia, one of the most venerable men in the Senate and a former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when the Democrats controlled Congress, rose to say he would never again vote for any foreign-aid bill.

This was a bipartisan demonstration of American sentiment. It could only have come to such a dramatic climax as a result of the nation-wide disgust with the way some of our European allies have behaved in recent months. Senators do not feel they now have to add to the fires of criticism by giving a list of particulars, but Europe's tendency to lay down on the job with respect to NATO and the European defense treaties—to say nothing of the kibitizing done on the way the Korean war should be fought while America furnished the bulk of the troops there—did not sit well with American legislators.

There will be some who will dissent from such an analysis and will attribute the Senate vote entirely to the tendency of the American people to call it quits on foreign spending because taxes are high in America and not because they think somebody else is taking advantage of their altruism and generosity.

But, whatever the true reason, the fact remains that the sentiment of the American people was reflected in the Senate's vote this week. Europeans, who have been warned again and again in these dispatches that they were not getting from some of their American correspondents a balanced view of American feeling, now may see clearly that the United States Congress, with the outspoken support of both parties, feels that Europe must promptly begin to rehabilitate itself. This goes for economic as well as military aid of all kinds.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The confident impudence of Harry Truman in swaggering about New York after his brief visit to Washington is depressing evidence that the Communist enemies of this republic and of the moral basis on which it used to stand, continue to win. Otherwise, Truman surely must be detested by patriots loyal to the Constitution and to the religious principles which imbued the government of the nation at the beginning and for a long time later.

This is the man who said he liked old Joe Stalin and carried on in the "tradition" of Roosevelt, shielding the imbedded treason with his mocking snarl of "Red Herring" right down to the conviction of Alger Hiss.

Taxi drivers are sometimes carelessly regarded as typical, ordinary Americans. Let it be hoped that this is a harmless fiction, for the unidentified hackman who was said to have called out to Truman that he could be elected again tomorrow expressed a callous cynicism. He glibly ignored the treachery in the government under both Truman and Roosevelt. It may be true that Truman or Stevenson could be elected tomorrow. Morbid as the idea is, it is by no means fantastic. The flippancy, the cocky contempt which Roosevelt and Truman showed toward the pathetically earnest alarmists of the element which might fairly be called the loyalists, surely does strike an approving response in other persons than selected and possibly fictitious taxi drivers.

I have been closely concerned for about 16 years in the expose of treason under Roosevelt's patronage and later under Truman's. I ask myself what can be done now, after all the revelations of hideous disloyalty to our wonderful nation, to arouse in the people a fear and loathing of all concerned, including those who were guilty of failure to break it up.

Why is it that Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt, to name two of the most defiant and, with good ground, most self-confident personalities in the scenario, still command a public and a forum of mighty propaganda, while Louis Budenz, to name one of the bravest apostates, is heard by only a small circle of people who do not need persuading. To have deserved a friendly hail from any loyal American capable of understanding the facts, Truman should not have let the House Committee and the Senate Committees represented by Joe McCarthy and Pat McCarran bear the whole burden of proof. He should have put love of country above love of a miserable band of scoundrels ranging from paltry five percenters to great bureaucrats in the State and Justice Departments. He should have been heartily willing to destroy his party, if necessary, to rout the traitors. Instead, he pretended that the condition which Roosevelt knowingly encouraged to thrive was nothing more than the conjuring of covetous and unstable political enemies.

Mrs. Roosevelt's record is so bad that the public complaisance is an alarming symptom of fatalism. Far from hiding or apologizing, this brazen old woman, who never had as much as one single vote for any office in any public election, displays herself in a defiant role and ridicules Budenz for exposing traitors.

I doubt that anything ever will do any good now that the man who, in a nocturnal, personal decision committed still another generation of American young men to war, is merrily acclaimed in New York where many homes are darkened by sorrow or dread of sorrow. But there is a great record of positive information which should at least be studied by all who still dare to hope.

Budenz has written two books, "This Is My Story," which, ironically, was the title of an earlier memoir by Eleanor Roosevelt, and "Men Without Faces." But many papers still publish the old woman's cunning propaganda and so does McCall's, which has fallen into a devious political ism, while Budenz is practically ignored. In the popular mind, thanks to Mrs. Roosevelt's unsupported aspersions, he is even thought down upon.

In "Men Without Faces," Budenz puts before us a record, Budenz puts before us a record, not even impugned as false by any of his enemies, which should have aroused a nation not drugged by evil to mightly political indignation and action.

Listen to the man: "I managed the Daily Worker from a guarded locked, sound-proof room. It was guarded, locked and sound-proof because I was an active participant in the whole network of conspiracy of which the Daily Worker is a part. The only men and women permitted to enter were those who were successfully serving Stalin in America. More than a few were serving the Red Underground and, abruptly as they had come, would disappear again. A long list of loyal and concealed Communists, men and women, who occupy distinguished positions in business, professional and public life, was given me orally and committed to memory. Never was the list permitted to appear on paper. Today, now that I have left the party, it gives me a distinctly queer feeling to see and hear these people, who I know have sworn featly to Stalin, fervently defended by unsuspecting and patriotic Americans. The aim of this Fifth Column and of the dictatorship manipulating it is the violent destruction of the American republic."

But this book—all of the strong, verified books exposing the conspiracy—cannot be summarized. They must be read in detail to be appreciated. Yet we published a thousand tons of comic books and "escape" literature, including whodunnits by two of the most notorious traitors on the list, to a ton of such appalling warnings.

"In the present critical hour," Budenz puts it to the few who will trouble to read him, "is it no to the point for the American citizen to make a declaration of independence from his too-prevalent naviete?"

But Eleanor speaks with a thousand tongues in many dailies and in McCall's, a de luxe magazine lavishly supported by rich American business firms and by thousands of American housewives, some of them doubtless mothers, wives or sisters of men lost in Korea. And the standardized figure of the jovial New York hackie shouts a vote of confidence to the man who sent them there.

How should you play the South hand at a contract of four hearts? With a look of reproach at your partner, to begin with, for his jump to four hearts. A raise to three hearts would be ample on the North cards. And perhaps South should play the hand with a certain amount of self-criticism, since his opening bid is far from robust.

When Leonard B. Harmon, of New York, played the hand in a recent Asbury Park tournament, he found a way to make his ambitious game contract. It was a very neat performance.

West opened the eight of diamonds, East put up the king, and Harmon won with the ace. The spades looked like the best shot, and declarer made his best play to establish the spades by leading his king and overtaking with dummy's ace. He then returned the jack of spades, discarding a club from his hand when East followed with a low spade.

West naturally won with the queen of spades, and just as naturally tried to cash club tricks by leading the ace and then a low club.

Harmon won with the king of clubs, relieved that his club discard had persuaded West to tackle that suit. He could now get to dummy with the ace of trumps in order to discard his last club on the ten of spades.

When the king of hearts dropped, declarer followed his plan by discarding his last club on the ten of spades. He then ruffed a club, noting that East could not follow suit. By this time the distribution of all the suits was fairly clear.

Declarer continued by ruffing a diamond in dummy, and returned to his hand by ruffing a spade with the queen of hearts. West helplessly discarded a club, reducing his hand to a jack, eight, six of hearts.

Harmon now led another diamond, and West could make only the jack of hearts. If he played it at once, South was bound to make the ten of hearts in his own hand and the nine of hearts in dummy.

If West played a low trump first, dummy could ruff with the seven and return a spade for South to ruff with the ten of hearts. Either way, the contract was safe.

AIR-CONDITIONED OLDSMOBILE!

FRIGIDAIRE CAR CONDITIONING* BRINGS YOU COOL, REFRESHING DRIVING COMFORT IN HOTTEST WEATHER

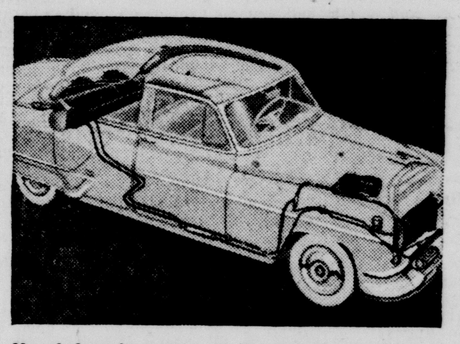

Imagine—driving along on the hottest day of the year—through city traffic or along country roads—and enjoying the same cool, fresh comfort as you get in the finest air-conditioned room!

Imagine—parking your car all day long under the broiling summer sun—and then driving it away with the temperature inside cool and comfortable within minutes!

Imagine—driving along on the hottest day with windows closed—with no wind blowing your hair—with no discomfort from dust, drafts, bugs, humidity or noise.

Imagine—riding in an air-cooled car with no hot blasts of air to bother you—no damp, sticky atmosphere!

Oldsmobile can do all this for you with the new Frigidaire Car Conditioner, one of the greatest automotive advancements in 20 years.

Here's how it works—The Frigidaire Car Conditioner works on the same basic principle as a room conditioner. A compact refrigeration unit is "tucked away" in the trunk. A rotary compressor is located under the hood. The condenser is installed in front of the engine radiator. The air distribution system is located inside the body of the car.

Two flat sleeves—one on each side of the interior—distribute cool air evenly into the car by means of four sets of louvers and individual air jets. These louvers eliminate annoying drafts, and assure well-balanced air circulation throughout your Oldsmobile.

Here's what it does for you—No matter how hot the weather outside, your Oldsmobile is refreshingly cool inside. And the coolness achieved is a clear, dry coolness—free from high humidity and wind noise. You just roll up your windows and relax in a quiet, serene atmosphere—free from wind, noise and dust. Conversation is easier, radio reception is clearer and warm-weather traveling is much more enjoyable.

No more Heat! No matter how torrid the weather outside, you'll always be cool inside! You can drive all-day long under a blistering hot sun and relax in refreshing comfort.

No more Humidity! Here's where you can find relief from high humidity on rainy days. Even in sticky weather, windows stay closed and you enjoy a clear, dry atmosphere.

No more Wind! Think of "windows-up" protection and comfort on hot, windy, dusty days! You'll breathe clear, filtered air even when you travel over country roads.

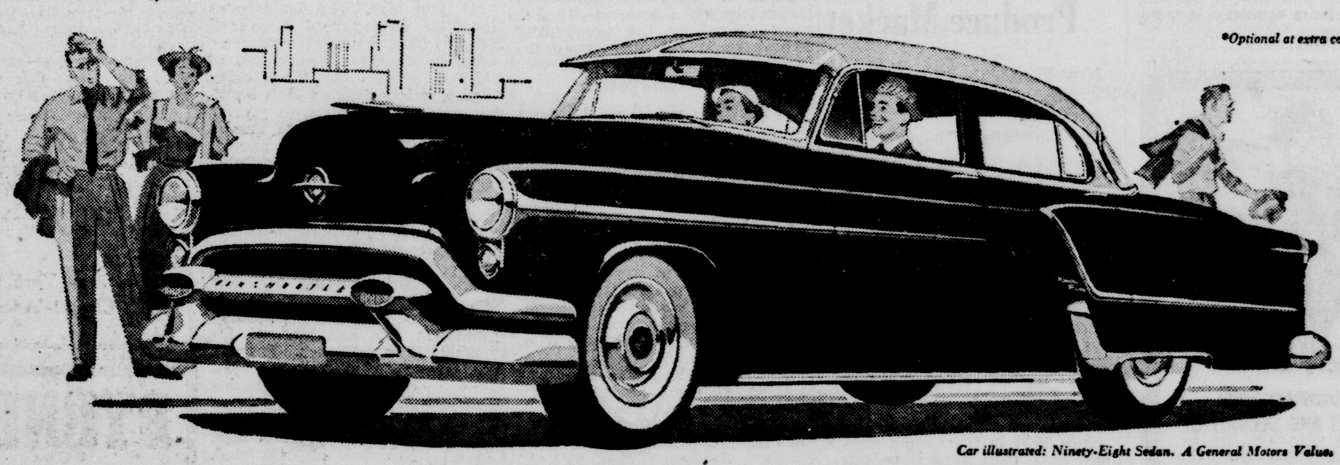

No more Road Noise! You can actually talk in whispers and be heard easily, and you'll enjoy your radio much more.

Widens Usefulness of Car—The Car Conditioner increases the efficiency of traveling salesmen and many others who depend upon a car in hot weather. And even on days that are not excessively warm, Oldsmobile owners find, that "windows-up" driving is so much quieter and more comfortable.

Stop in and ask us about the Frigidaire Car Conditioner. This revolutionary new feature is typical of the advancements you expect from Oldsmobile—"Rocket" Engine and Hydra-Matic Super Drive*—Power Steering* and Power Brakes*—Power Ride Chassis and Power Styling—the Autronic-Eye* and Custom-Lounge Interiors! Make a date with a "Rocket 8"—the Classic Ninety-Eight or brilliant Super "88" Oldsmobile.

*Optional at extra cost.

Republican Slate Is Taking Shape

With both major political parties scheduled to hold unofficial city and county conventions before the month is out, the probable Republican slate is beginning to take shape, while possible Democratic contenders remain a large question mark.

Neither party's slate will become "official" until after the fall primary on September 15, but the recommended slates adopted by the delegates to the unofficial conventions usually prove to be the final slate. Write-in votes are seldom effective unless they follow an organized campaign.

Although it is possible for a "dark horse" to obtain the unofficial designation on the floor of the convention, it is usually possible to predict the tickets of the major parties on the basis of those who have declared themselves as receptive to the nomination prior to the convention.

Within the ranks of the Republican party, the only nomination which at this time appears to be "wide open" is that for coroner to fill the unexpired term of the late Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston. At least four city morticians are reportedly seeking the designation.

Other GOP Aspirants

Other Republican aspirants who appear to be in line for nomination unless opposition develops within the next few days are these: Supervisor Kenneth Wilson of Woodstock for member of assembly to fill a vacancy created by the death of Assemblyman John Wadlin; Cluett Schantz for re-election as Ulster county sheriff; Michael A. Galietta for re-election as coroner for the full term.

In the city, Frederick H. Stang is the only person so far to have declared himself as a potential candidate for mayor; Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly and City Judge Raymond Mino are apparently unopposed for the nominations to succeed themselves in the offices they presently hold.

The Republican unofficial county convention will be held at the municipal auditorium on Saturday, July 11, with the unofficial city convention to be held Monday, July 13, at the court house.

Mentioned for Democrats

There has been a complete lack of declarations for the Democratic nominations, and party leaders have been silent on the topic of possible aspirants. Even street speculation has been sparse, although the names of Richard F. Riseley and Francis J. O'Neil have been mentioned as possible mayoralty candidates.

The date for the unofficial Democratic city and county conventions has not been definitely fixed, although it has tentatively been set down for July 20. The Democrats usually hold both conventions the same evening, convening the city convention immediately after adjournment of the county convention.

In addition to top county and city offices mentioned, supervisors and other town officers will be elected for each town, and supervisors and aldermen for each ward in the city.

Richter Addresses Kiwanis on Flag

Attorney Hubert A. Richter, commander of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday.

The American Flag stands for the American way of life, Richter said, and that way of life means "liberty, freedom and justice."

He warned against considering these as legacies, but said each generation must work to preserve them for itself.

Calls for Vigilance

In times of peace, he said, it is necessary to promote fellowship such as exists in Kiwanis, be eternally vigilant, have a strong and sound economy, be second to none in military strength, have no "second class citizens," be more active in civil defense work, and maintain a faith in God such as the early patriots had during the "dark days of the Revolution."

Kiwanian Roger H. Loughran also spoke briefly on the meaning of the Flag during the program which was held in observance of Independence Day.

INDEPENDENCE DAY, 1953

Today, millions the world over, look to America on its birthday and seem to reiterate Longfellow's great verse—

Thou, too, sail on, O Ship of State!
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate.

Republican Slate Is Taking Shape

With both major political parties scheduled to hold unofficial city and county conventions before the month is out, the probable Republican slate is beginning to take shape, while possible Democratic contenders remain a large question mark.

Neither party's slate will become "official" until after the fall primary on September 15, but the recommended slates adopted by the delegates to the unofficial conventions usually prove to be the final slate. Write-in votes are seldom effective unless they follow an organized campaign.

Although it is possible for a "dark horse" to obtain the unofficial designation on the floor of the convention, it is usually possible to predict the tickets of the major parties on the basis of those who have declared themselves as receptive to the nomination prior to the convention.

Within the ranks of the Republican party, the only nomination which at this time appears to be "wide open" is that for coroner to fill the unexpired term of the late Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston. At least four city morticians are reportedly seeking the designation.

Other GOP Aspirants

Other Republican aspirants who appear to be in line for nomination unless opposition develops within the next few days are these: Supervisor Kenneth Wilson of Woodstock for member of assembly to fill a vacancy created by the death of Assemblyman John Wadlin; Cluett Schantz for re-election as Ulster county sheriff; Michael A. Galietta for re-election as coroner for the full term.

In the city, Frederick H. Stang is the only person so far to have declared himself as a potential candidate for mayor; Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly and City Judge Raymond Mino are apparently unopposed for the nominations to succeed themselves in the offices they presently hold.

The Republican unofficial county convention will be held at the municipal auditorium on Saturday, July 11, with the unofficial city convention to be held Monday, July 13, at the court house.

Mentioned for Democrats

There has been a complete lack of declarations for the Democratic nominations, and party leaders have been silent on the topic of possible aspirants. Even street speculation has been sparse, although the names of Richard F. Riselow and Francis J. O'Neil have been mentioned as possible mayoralty candidates.

The date for the unofficial Democratic city and county conventions has not been definitely fixed, although it has tentatively been set down for July 20. The Democrats usually hold both conventions the same evening, convening the city convention immediately after adjournment of the county convention.

In addition to top county and city offices mentioned, supervisors and other town officers will be elected for each town, and supervisors and aldermen for each ward in the city.

Richter Addresses Kiwanis on Flag

Attorney Hubert A. Richter, commander of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday.

The American Flag stands for the American way of life, Richter said, and that way of life means "liberty, freedom and justice."

He warned against considering these as legacies, but said each generation must work to preserve them for itself.

Calls for Vigilance

In times of peace, he said, it is necessary to promote fellowship such as exists in Kiwanis, be eternally vigilant, have a strong and sound economy, be second to none in military strength, have no "second class citizens," be more active in civil defense work, and maintain a faith in God such as the early patriots had during the "dark days of the Revolution."

Kiwanian Roger H. Loughran also spoke briefly on the meaning of the Flag during the program which was held in observance of Independence Day.

Report Is Denied

Taipeh, Formosa, July 3 (AP)—A Nationalist government spokesman today denied a report from the official Central New Agency that U. S. warships conveyed Nationalist troops here from Indochina. About 30,000 soldiers interned by the French when they fled across the border from South China in 1949 were moved to Formosa in a secret operation completed this week.

The WINDETTE

Spacious, Modern Room Layout

Rooms ..... Seven
Bedrooms ..... Four
Closets ..... Twelve
Cubage ..... 27,800 ft.
Dimensions ..... 56' x 31'

An unusually appealing modern house, with the kitchen in the front of the house and the living room in the rear, where you can reap the utmost scenic benefits from the picture-windowed back wall.

To insure as much privacy and quiet as possible for the sleeping rooms, both first floor bedrooms are located in the right wing of the house.

There are two more large bedrooms on the second floor of "The Windette." Here also the bathroom is conveniently near to the bedrooms.

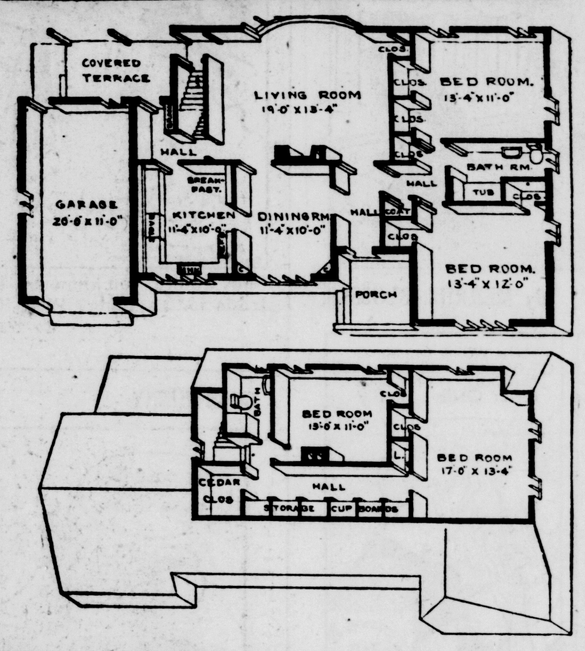

With the exception of the broom closet, which opens on the back hallway and the closet in the back wall of the front bedroom, all closets on the first floor of "The Windette" are located in the walls separating the bedrooms from the living room and entry hall.

You'll also welcome the extra storage space on the second floor of "The Windette."

With overall measurements of 56' x 31' "The Windette" has a cubage of 27,800 feet. At least an 80 foot lot would be required for the house and attached garage.

Brick makes an especially appropriate exterior finish for a cozy house of this type.

Since there's no room provided on the ground floor of "The Windette" for the laundry, you should have your laundry equipment installed in the basement; have it placed under the kitchen. Then, the heating plant can be installed under the living room.

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addresed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Russell Is Sentenced

Mineola, July 3 (AP)—Robert C. Russell, 46-year-old burglar known as "The Black Cat," was sentenced yesterday to two and a half to 10 years in prison by Nassau county Judge Norman F. Lent. Russell was arrested last Aug. 24 and convicted by a jury in February of the attempted burglary of the home of Albert H. Corak, 32 Merrivale Road, Great Neck. Since his conviction the frail-looking negro has talked freely to Nassau, Westchester county and New York city police concerning his own bandit career and named five other men in connection with robberies in the metropolitan area.

Milk Was Almost Free

Rushville, Ill., July 3 (AP)—Milk was almost for free today in this western Illinois community of some 3,000 residents. The price of a quart of milk yesterday was 4½ cents. There were indications it might be lower today. The normal price 19 to 20 cents a quart. But the price cuts started a month ago between three milk producing companies with each distributor bettering reductions made by a competitor.

Carnival Worker Held

Russell Heaton, 33, a carnival worker from Falls Church, Va., was arrested by state police near Ellenville yesterday on a charge of illegally possessing a loaded pistol. He waived examination before Justice of the Peace Herbert Toppel, of the town of Wawarsing, and was held for the grand jury. He posted $75 bail. Police said they were making a routine check of his Virginia license plate when the pistol was discovered in a suitcase in his panel truck. He said it was one he had picked up while in the army overseas, the troopers reported.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 2—Enemy number one is not communism or any other "ism." Enemy number one is weight. I don't refer to your weight or my weight. We all can control this by the simple method of eating less, and thus avoiding "second-helping-itis." Instead, I am referring today to the cost of transportation, amounting to over 100 billion dollars a year, of which I estimate 80 per cent is due to the weight of goods and not to the labor and other costs.

What Causes Weight?

Whatever we eat, wear, or use as a home starts from the forests, mines or farms. At these points of origin the costs are very low. For instance, standing timber sells for $2 per cord; coal in the mine sells for $1 per ton; and a bushel of wheat on the farm for only about $2. We pay ten times these costs after they are transported to our home or breakfast table. If weight could be reduced 85 per cent I believe the cost of living would tumble 70 per cent.

This brings me to my hobby of gravity which is the cause of this wasteful weight. Thus far no insulator, absorber, or reflector of gravity has been discovered, but this will be accomplished someday. All other forces, such as light, sound, fire, odor, electricity, magnetism, X-rays and even atomic rays can be shut off. Metallurgists will soon discover a means of partially insulating or reflecting gravity waves. This discovery will revolutionize manufacturing, transportation and distribution.

Nothing to Worry About

Some people fear that if we interfere with gravity they would rise to the ceiling of the room or, if out-of-doors, disappear in the skies. There is absolutely no danger of this. The same fears were expressed when our first ancestors discovered fire and later when Franklin tried to harness lightning. When a partial insulator or reflector of gravity is discovered it can be controlled as well as fire or electricity or atomic rays. Furthermore, this can be accomplished safely whether the gravity waves come from the sky and push down, or come from the earth and pull us down.

The Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, N. H., tells me that such an insulator would not reduce our weight if used for shoe soles or stair treads. In order to take advantage of such a partial insulator or reflector we must be wholly encased as if we were in a sealed coffin and this wouldn't do us much good! This is another reason why no one need fear the control of gravity. We should rather fear the lack of control of our appetites! To us, starches may be more dangerous than gravity.

Anti-Gravity Alloys

As indicated above, there is little hope for reducing the weight of automobiles, trucks or even freight cars. But there is real hope for reducing the weight of their contents. One of the early developments will be hermetically sealing truck trailers with an anti-gravity alloy. This same principle will be used to reduce the weight of trunks and suitcases. I believe that Russian scientists are now desperately at work to discover a gravity reflector to very much lessen the weight of the packs which all soldiers carry on their backs. Think what this would mean to the nine million of our own boys. Readers will think of other illustrations but remember that only the enclosed contents can be deweighted.

Of course the greatest boom would take place in connection with the airplane. Why the government and airplane manufacturers do not give the subject more serious consideration is beyond my comprehension. The engineers answer me by saying they are "too busy with other things to bother about gravity." My reply is that 40 years ago when the Goodyear Company was making lighter-than-air dirigibles and I asked why they did not help the Wright Brothers in making heavier-than-air airships, they gave the same reply: "We're too busy." All of which reminds me of what Thomas Edison said to me shortly before he died: "Babson, we don't yet know anything. The young people now graduating from schools and colleges have far greater opportunities than we ever had if they will only work, save and study."

Typhoon Is Expected

Taipeh, Formosa, July 3 (AP)—A swirling typhoon was expected to hit Formosa early tomorrow unless it changes course. Wind and rain already brushed the island, heralding the typhoon's 140-miles-per-hour winds. Ocean small craft took refugee and planes were tied down at airports. The typhoon just missed the Philippines, sweeping past the northern tip of the islands Friday.

Jewels Are Stolen

New York, July 3 (AP)—Burglars broke into the duplex apartment of Mrs. Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, yesterday and stole jewels valued at $25,000, police reported. They said Mrs. Schiff discovered the loss early in the evening but waited to report it until she had checked whether her daughter or servants had put the jewels away for safekeeping.

Set Standard

Naval operations against Tripoli in 1803-1805 completed formation of the United States Navy and gave it a high standard of heroic conduct to look back upon with pride, and to uphold in future.

Barriers Are Lowered

Berlin, July 3 (AP)—The Russian zone lowered its artificial barriers today to permit 10,000 east Germans to visit the west for the annual Evangelical Church rally at Hamburg August 12-18. The Communist government notified the church leadership that interzonal passes would be granted for the trip. The regime refused all passes for the rally last year in Stuttgart.

Typhoon Is Expected

Taipeh, Formosa, July 3 (AP)—A swirling typhoon was expected to hit Formosa early tomorrow unless it changes course. Wind and rain already brushed the island, heralding the typhoon's 140-miles-per-hour winds. Ocean small craft took refugee and planes were tied down at airports. The typhoon just missed the Philippines, sweeping past the northern tip of the islands Friday.

Jewels Are Stolen

New York, July 3 (AP)—Burglars broke into the duplex apartment of Mrs. Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, yesterday and stole jewels valued at $25,000, police reported. They said Mrs. Schiff discovered the loss early in the evening but waited to report it until she had checked whether her daughter or servants had put the jewels away for safekeeping.

Set Standard

Naval operations against Tripoli in 1803-1805 completed formation of the United States Navy and gave it a high standard of heroic conduct to look back upon with pride, and to uphold in future.

Barriers Are Lowered

Berlin, July 3 (AP)—The Russian zone lowered its artificial barriers today to permit 10,000 east Germans to visit the west for the annual Evangelical Church rally at Hamburg August 12-18. The Communist government notified the church leadership that interzonal passes would be granted for the trip. The regime refused all passes for the rally last year in Stuttgart.

Patrick S. Coppola of Ulster Street Extension, Kingston, has joined the guided missile engineering staff of the Bendix Products Division of Bendix Aviation Corporation, it was announced today in South Bend, Ind. He is the son of Mrs. Carmela Coppola and is a 1953 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute where he received the degree of bachelor of science in mechanical engineering.

Coppola will be participating in a $50,000,000-a-year engineering program which includes a technical staff of more than 6,000 in all divisions of Bendix. The program includes new developments in such fields as aviation electronics, guided missiles, aircraft and automotive components, television and many others.

The new Bendix engineer is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' student branch, the Newman Club and the Alph Phi Delta fraternity. He has served with the United States Army.

Hint to Motorists

There are several possible causes of cracked valve seats, among which are clogged water jacket resulting in unequal cooling pulling up the cylinder head stud nuts too tightly, and wrong type of spark plug.

Crack Outboard Pilots Due for 12th Annual KPBA Races Sunday

A host of crack northeastern states outboard stars, including several national titleholders, will be featured in the Kingston Power Boat Association's 12th annual regatta on Sunday, July 5, on the Rondout creek.

Late entries have swelled the total to record breaking proportions and KPBA officials today predicted the finest performances in the history of the event. First race is scheduled at 2 p. m.

The traditional program will be run over a revised course that will give spectators a better view of the race. The card consists of five races with two heats in each event.

Among the probable starters is Don Whitfield, of Montclair, N. J., former world's Class M champion and a frequent visitor to the Rondout.

Class C is headed by famous Vic Scott of Forest Hills, winner of the Albany-to-New York marathon and several KPBA events. Joe Frins of Brooklyn, who showed great in the recent New Jersey races, Joe Stager of Flushing and Les Buckman of Baldwin are expected to give Scott serious competition.

Mathews to Show

Fred Mathews, of Albany, who wears N-1 insignia on his boat (symbolic of the national championship in the Runabout division) goes against a stellar field that includes the prominent husband-wife combine of Anne and Jack Jensen of Flushing, Whit Hunt of Rexford and John Kexel of Schenectady.

An added feature for the Class M race, traditional opener on the program, will be the appearance of a doctor and his 16-year-old protege competing against each other in hydroplanes.

Dr. R. D. Frawley of the Dravosburg Seaplane Base, Pittsburgh, will race in M class against Sonny Cislo of the same address. Dr. Frawley has coached Cislo on the finer points of the Class M for several years and now finds himself running second to his pupil.

Cislo will be making his first appearance on the Rondout but Dr. Frawley competed for the first time last year and won third place in the Class M race. He was so pleased with the local course and the manner in which the regatta was conducted that he promised to return for this year's event.

The doctor and his protege, of course, will be stacking against Don Whitfield, the former world champion. Other stellar names include Bruno Pierguidi of North Bergen, N. J. who has never missed a local race; Dorothy Mayer of College Point, N. Y. and Midge Clarke of New Haven.

Peterman on List

Another perennial visitor, Gib Peterman of Malverne, L. I. is favored in the high-powered Class A field that lists among the probable starters Lec Buckman, Ed Major of Warwick, R. I., Joe Wotowitz of Hartford, Conn. and George Middleton of Malden, Mass.

Joseph White of Poughkeepsie will serve as the official starter and Elliot Collson of Poughkeepsie will be the referee. Lansing Lockwood, of Poughkeepsie, one of the best in the business, will be the announcer.

Merchants Defeat Wiltwycks, 3-1, to Tie First Half in Twi Loop

First half action in the City Baseball League ended in a stalemate between Colonial Merchants and Wiltwyck Motors Thursday, when Manager Bill Davis' tossers got a superbly pitched game from Zeke Klosterman to whip the Motormen, 3-1, and create a 7-1 deadlock for first place.

The two clubs meet Tuesday evening to determine the first half honors.

Klosterman, the mountain town dandy, held the Wiltwyck sluggers to a pair of hits and had a shutout until the seventh. Wiltwycks had won seven straight up to yesterday.

Merchants picked up five hits off Ernie McCormick, who dropped his first game while Klosterman was running his string to three straight.

Eric Goercke, who fashioned three of the five Merchant safeties, greeted McCormick with a line single to right in the first, and the Colonials were off and running. Felipe forced him at second and scored on Ward Dunham's double up the left center alley.

It stayed 1-0 until the fifth when the Merchants added a pair to lead 3-0. The big blow in the rally was Joe Carlino's bases-loaded single with two outs. It scored two runs and brought Carlino his first hit in 12 times at bat. Goercke's third straight hit launched the rally.

Klosterman was working on a one-hitter and had issued only one walk when the Motormen came alive in their last turn at bat.

Tom Murphy led off with a walk, only the second issued by Klosterman, and Kite bounced a line-hugging double past first base, putting runners on second and third with no outs. Klosterman made a nice play on Finn's chopper to the left of the mound but Ward Dunham dropped his second throw of the game and the bases were loaded.

In this game replete with great fielding plays, Joey Carlino came up with the classic in this clutch moment. He came tearing in for a sensational shoestring catch of Eddie Passante's sinking liner. The runner scored from third because Joey was off balance and couldn't throw but it could have been a double or triple. Klosterman then got Tim Murphy on a pop fly to second and was erased by the infield fly rule. A good thing for the Merchants, too, because Mike Carlino dropped it! Klosterman closed shop by fanning Leighton Wilklow, a dangerous long ball hitter.

Notes: Harry Kite's double and McCormick's single were the only hits off Klosterman. Merchants played inspired ball in the field. Chuck Engle made a beautiful catch on Kite's liner to right center in second. Joe Carlino had at least a half dozen great defensive plays in left field, the most sensational one-man performance of the season. It looks like Klosterman and Tommy Fisher for Tuesday's payoff game.

Southpaw Frank Reis of St. Joseph's twirled his second consecutive no-hit, no-run game in the CYO League, stopping St. Mary's, 1-0, in a brilliant six-inning duel with Jack Houghtaling.

The KHS varsity southpaw faced only 21 batters in six frames, yielding but three hits and fanning 14. The game was called at the end of the sixth because of darkness.

Houghtaling was also extremely effective, doling out only six hits and losing his shutout in the third when Altamore doubled and scored on Fay's single. Altamore and Hoffman pounded two hits each for St. Peter's.

How to Play Par Golf

3-Wood Workhorse of Fairway

By JULIUS BOROS
(1951 U. S. Open Champ)

You will probably have a little more difficulty with the 2, 3, 4 and possibly 5 woods than with the driver because the ball normally will not be teed up when these clubs are used.

The 2 wood, or brassie, is almost as heavy as the driver and there is only slightly more loft. I don't recommend its being used except on rare occasions, but it can be employed for tee shots for certain distances on par three holes, and for placement purposes on dog-leg and fairway bunker holes. It's excellent for women to use off the tee. They normally have trouble getting the ball up.

Don't attempt to use the brassie unless you have a lie where the ball is practically sitting up. Otherwise use the 3 wood or spoon.

The 3 wood is the workhorse of the fairway. It gives distance plus height and roll.

The ball is played off the inside of the left heel. The grip is firm but not tense. The knees are slightly flexed. The head is down over the ball.

About halfway back with the 3 wood, the weight begins to shift to the right foot. The left foot is coming up from the ground. The wrists have not begun to cock, but the arms are extended. The top of the swing is similar to that of the driver. The hands are held high at the top and under the shaft of the club. The club is parallel to the ground.

About halfway down the wrists have not yet uncocked. The right elbow is tucked in close to the side. The left arm is straight and firm. The hips and body turn to the left.

After the wrists unleash their power and send the ball into flight, the weight shifts to the left side. The right elbow is held close to the side.

The complete follow through is similar to that with a driver. The hands are high. The head is up. The eyes follow the flight of the ball.

The left foot is placed firmly on the ground, while only the right toe remains on the ground.

DOWNWARD — About halfway down with the wood, Julius Boros' wrists have not yet uncocked. The right elbow is tucked in close to the side. the left arm straight and firm. The hips and the body turn to the left. (NEA)

Registration Set for Boys In New League

Registration for all boys in the 16-17 year age bracket interested in playing in a new league planned by the Department of Recreation is scheduled this evening at the municipal stadium.

The league will operate along the lines of the Little League and Fraternal Youth League. Games are planned on Sunday and Tuesday evenings.

The league plans to play through July and August and part of September. Sponsors already lined up for the new circuit include the Hercules Powder Co., Veterans of Foreign Wars, Recreation Department and a combined team from the Recreation Department and Electrol, Inc.

Michigan State's new Big Ten faculty representative, Dean Edgar Harden, once played on an Iowa State Teachers baseball team which beat Michigan State, 5-4.

Newark, N. J.—Big Dynamite, 150, Washington, stopped Billy Clark, 153, Brooklyn, 2.

This Week's Results

Subway Grill won over Alpine by forfeit.

Esopus Legion 27, VFW 15.

Lincoln Park 5, Cherny's 4.

Hilltop 7, Beicherts 6.

Subway Grill's once-beaten City Softball League leaders advanced into double figures in the victory column this week thanks to a forfeit win over the Alpine Climbers. It was the Grillmen's 10th win in 11 starts.

Meanwhile, the Esopus Legion continued to stay on the heels of the league-leaders by trouncing the VFW combine, 27-15, in a wild-hitting ball game.

The Hilltoppers, salvaging a 7 to 6 squeaker win over Beicherts, took over undisputed possession of third place. Three teams are tied for fourth.

In the only other game, Lincoln Park Inn nipped Cherny's by 5 to 4 at Block Park.

Ferraro Poles Two

Esopus Legion collected 29 base hits in routing the Vets with Harvey Sleight, Bob Graves and Herb Ferguson each stroking four hits. Jim Ferraro had a big night with a pair of homers and a triple. Bill Ferguson and Bruce Munson chipped in with three hits to help the murderous attack.

Bill Ferguson went the route for the winners.

The Hilltoppers pulled their game out of the fire with a single run in the bottom half of the seventh to take the count of Beicherts, 7-6.

Hilltop jumped off to a 5-2 lead in the second. After Beicherts made it 5-4 with a pair of markers in the fourth, the winners picked up another tally in the fourth. Beicherts knotted the count in the sixth and the score remained 6-6 until the Hilltoppers pushed over the deciding score in the seventh.

The game was marked by some brilliant fielding. A tremendous catch by Scheffel saved the Hilltoppers a couple of runs in the seventh.

Joe Enright dueled D. Basch to pick up the victory.

Although out-hit, 12-8, the Lincoln Park Inn squad skimmed through with its 5-4 win over Cherny's.

Van Loan Fans 16 As Esopus Yankees Trip Giants, 4-3

Big Jay Van Loan overpowered the Giants, first half champs of the Esopus Little League, Wednesday night as the Yankees squeaked through with a 4 to 3 victory.

Van Loan faced 21 batters and struck out 16 of the 18 putouts. Dick Wenzel, shortstop for the Giants, collected two of the three hits off Van Loan.

The Yanks came from behind a 3-2 deficit to pull out the decision with a pair of runs in the fourth inning.

Mize's Pinch Double Snaps Yankees' Losing Streak

Bombers Edge Boston, 5-3

By BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Now that the Yankees finally have quit losing maybe the Cleveland Indians will go back to playing better baseball.

Instead of concentrating on their own business, the Indians this week have been going through their paces with one eye on the scoreboard to see how much ground they were gaining on the "fading" New Yorkers. As a result they have lost two in a row to the tail-end Detroit Tigers.

The Yanks broke their nine-game victory drouth by edging the Red Sox, 5-3, in 10 innings at Boston yesterday. Cleveland bowed, 4-2, to Detroit and slipped six games behind the world champions.

The Chicago White Sox, who had yesterday and today off, also are six games back and just two percentage points behind the Indians.

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers made sure that they will be in first place on the morning of the Fourth of July traditional turning point of the pennant races. The Dodgers defeated Philadelphia, 8-0, and second place Milwaukee skidded a game and a half behind by losing to Cincinnati, 3-1. The rest of the National League clubs weren't scheduled.

Johnny Mize hammered the hit that broke the Yankee slump. Pinch hitting in the 10th with two out and Yogi Berra on third base, Mize drove a 3-2 pitch from Sid Hudson into left center field for a double.

The Yankees lost some close games in their slump but they played better yesterday than at any time since they were in the midst of their 18 game winning streak. Their 13-hit total was the highest since June 17. And Vic Raschi pitched like a winner all the way after the Sox got to him for two runs in the first inning.

With one out in the 10th Bollweg lashed a single. Berra followed with a double and a perfect relay from Hoot Evers to Johnny Lipon to Sammy White caught Bollweg at the plate. Then came Mize.

Brooks Get Pitching

Washington's scheduled game in Philadelphia was rained out.

So far this year Brooklyn's biggest difficulty has been its pitching but you couldn't find much wrong with Carl Erskine's seven hit performance against the Phillies. The shutout was only the fourth this season by a Brooklyn pitcher and it marked the first time in 18 games that the opposition hasn't hit a home run against the Dodgers.

Cincinnati has hit 94 home runs, more than any other major league team, and the Redlegs used them to good advantage in handing Milwaukee its eighth straight home loss.

Ted Kluszewski put the Reds in front in the first inning with his 23rd home run and Gus Bell hit his 21st in the ninth. The Braves' only tally off the five-hit pitching of Bud Podbielan was a circuit blast by Del Crandall.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

A host of crack northeastern states outboard stars, including several national titleholders, will be featured in the Kingston Power Boat Association's 12th annual regatta on Sunday, July 5, on the Rondout creek.

Late entries have swelled the total to record breaking proportions and KPBA officials today predicted the finest performances in the history of the event. First race is scheduled at 2 p. m.

The traditional program will be run over a revised course that will give spectators a better view of the race. The card consists of five races with two heats in each event.

Among the probable starters is Don Whitfield, of Montclair, N. J., former world's Class M champion and a frequent visitor to the Rondout.

Class C is headed by famous Vic Scott of Forest Hills, winner of the Albany-to-New York marathon and several KPBA events. Joe Frins of Brooklyn, who showed great in the recent New Jersey races, Joe Stager of Flushing and Les Buckman of Baldwin are expected to give Scott serious competition.

Mathews to Show

Fred Mathews, of Albany, who wears N-1 insignia on his boat (symbolic of the national championship in the Runabout division) goes against a stellar field that includes the prominent husband-wife combine of Anne and Jack Jensen of Flushing, Whit Hunt of Rexford and John Kexel of Schenectady.

An added feature for the Class M race, traditional opener on the program, will be the appearance of a doctor and his 16-year-old protege competing against each other in hydroplanes.

Dr. R. D. Frawley of the Dravosburg Seaplane Base, Pittsburgh, will race in M class against Sonny Cislo of the same address. Dr. Frawley has coached Cislo on the finer points of the Class M for several years and now finds himself running second to his pupil.

Cislo will be making his first appearance on the Rondout but Dr. Frawley competed for the first time last year and won third place in the Class M race. He was so pleased with the local course and the manner in which the regatta was conducted that he promised to return for this year's event.

The doctor and his protege, of course, will be stacking against Don Whitfield, the former world champion. Other stellar names include Bruno Pierguidi of North Bergen, N. J. who has never missed a local race; Dorothy Mayer of College Point, N. Y. and Midge Clarke of New Haven.

Peterman on List

Another perennial visitor, Gib Peterman of Malverne, L. I. is favored in the high-powered Class A field that lists among the probable starters Lec Buckman, Ed Major of Warwick, R. I., Joe Wotowitz of Hartford, Conn. and George Middleton of Malden, Mass.

Joseph White of Poughkeepsie will serve as the official starter and Elliot Collson of Poughkeepsie will be the referee. Lansing Lockwood, of Poughkeepsie, one of the best in the business, will be the announcer.

Merchants Defeat Wiltwycks, 3-1, to Tie First Half in Twi Loop

First half action in the City Baseball League ended in a stalemate between Colonial Merchants and Wiltwyck Motors Thursday, when Manager Bill Davis' tossers got a superbly pitched game from Zeke Klosterman to whip the Motormen, 3-1, and create a 7-1 deadlock for first place.

The two clubs meet Tuesday evening to determine the first half honors.

Klosterman, the mountain town dandy, held the Wiltwyck sluggers to a pair of hits and had a shutout until the seventh. Wiltwycks had won seven straight up to yesterday.

Merchants picked up five hits off Ernie McCormick, who dropped his first game while Klosterman was running his string to three straight.

Eric Goercke, who fashioned three of the five Merchant safeties, greeted McCormick with a line single to right in the first, and the Colonials were off and running. Felipe forced him at second and scored on Ward Dunham's double up the left center alley.

It stayed 1-0 until the fifth when the Merchants added a pair to lead 3-0. The big blow in the rally was Joe Carlino's bases-loaded single with two outs. It scored two runs and brought Carlino his first hit in 12 times at bat. Goercke's third straight hit launched the rally.

Klosterman was working on a one-hitter and had issued only one walk when the Motormen came alive in their last turn at bat.

Tom Murphy led off with a walk, only the second issued by Klosterman, and Kite bounced a line-hugging double past first base, putting runners on second and third with no outs. Klosterman made a nice play on Finn's chopper to the left of the mound but Ward Dunham dropped his second throw of the game and the bases were loaded.

In this game replete with great fielding plays, Joey Carlino came up with the classic in this clutch moment. He came tearing in for a sensational shoestring catch of Eddie Passante's sinking liner. The runner scored from third because Joey was off balance and couldn't throw but it could have been a double or triple. Klosterman then got Tim Murphy on a pop fly to second and was erased by the infield fly rule. A good thing for the Merchants, too, because Mike Carlino dropped it! Klosterman closed shop by fanning Leighton Wilklow, a dangerous long ball hitter.

Notes: Harry Kite's double and McCormick's single were the only hits off Klosterman. Merchants played inspired ball in the field. Chuck Engle made a beautiful catch on Kite's liner to right center in second. Joe Carlino had at least a half dozen great defensive plays in left field, the most sensational one-man performance of the season. It looks like Klosterman and Tommy Fisher for Tuesday's payoff game.

Southpaw Frank Reis of St. Joseph's twirled his second consecutive no-hit, no-run game in the CYO League, stopping St. Mary's, 1-0, in a brilliant six-inning duel with Jack Houghtaling.

The KHS varsity southpaw faced only 21 batters in six frames, yielding but three hits and fanning 14. The game was called at the end of the sixth because of darkness.

Houghtaling was also extremely effective, doling out only six hits and losing his shutout in the third when Altamore doubled and scored on Fay's single. Altamore and Hoffman pounded two hits each for St. Peter's.

How to Play Par Golf

3-Wood Workhorse of Fairway

DOWNWARD — About halfway down with the wood, Julius Boros' wrists have not yet uncocked. The right elbow is tucked in close to the side, the left arm straight and firm. The hips and the body turn to the left. (NEA)

By JULIUS BOROS
(1951 U. S. Open Champ)

You will probably have a little more difficulty with the 2, 3, 4 and possibly 5 woods than with the driver because the ball normally will not be teed up when these clubs are used.

The 2 wood, or brassie, is almost as heavy as the driver and there is only slightly more loft. I don't recommend its being used except on rare occasions, but it can be employed for tee shots for certain distances on par three holes, and for placement purposes on dog-leg and fairway bunker holes. It's excellent for women to use off the tee. They normally have trouble getting the ball up.

Don't attempt to use the brassie unless you have a lie where the ball is practically sitting up.

Otherwise use the 3 wood or spoon.

The 3 wood is the workhorse of the fairway. It gives distance plus height and roll.

The ball is played off the inside of the left heel. The grip is firm but not tense. The knees are slightly flexed. The head is down over the ball.

About halfway back with the 3 wood, the weight begins to shift to the right foot. The left foot is coming up from the ground. The wrists have not begun to cock, but the arms are extended. The top of the swing is similar to that of the driver. The hands are held high at the top and under the shaft of the club. The club is parallel to the ground.

About halfway down the wrists have not yet uncocked. The right elbow is tucked in close to the side. The left arm is straight and firm. The hips and body turn to the left.

After the wrists unleash their power and send the ball into flight, the weight shifts to the left side. The right elbow is held close to the side.

The complete follow through is similar to that with a driver. The hands are high. The head is up. The eyes follow the flight of the ball.

The left foot is placed firmly on the ground, while only the right toe remains on the ground.

Registration Set for Boys In New League

Registration for all boys in the 16-17 year age bracket interested in playing in a new league planned by the Department of Recreation is scheduled this evening at the municipal stadium.

The league will operate along the lines of the Little League and Fraternal Youth League. Games are planned on Sunday and Tuesday evenings.

The league plans to play through July and August and part of September. Sponsors already lined up for the new circuit include the Hercules Powder Co., Veterans of Foreign Wars, Recreation Department and a combined team from the Recreation Department and Electrol, Inc.

Michigan State's new Big Ten faculty representative, Dean Edgar Harden, once played on an Iowa State Teachers baseball team which beat Michigan State, 5-4.

This Week's Results

Subway Grill won over Alpine by forfeit.

Esopus Legion 27, VFW 15.
Lincoln Park 5, Cherny's 4.
Hilltop 7, Beicherts 6.

Subway Grill's once-beaten City Softball League leaders advanced into double figures in the victory column this week thanks to a forfeit win over the Alpine Climbers. It was the Grillmen's 10th win in 11 starts.

Meanwhile, the Esopus Legion continued to stay on the heels of the league-leaders by trouncing the VFW combine, 27-15, in a wild-hitting ball game.

The Hilltoppers, salvaging a 7 to 6 squeaker win over Beicherts, took over undisputed possession of third place. Three teams are tied for fourth.

In the only other game, Lincoln Park Inn nipped Cherny's by 5 to 4 at Block Park.

Ferraro Poles Two

Esopus Legion collected 29 base hits in routing the Vets with Harvey Sleight, Bob Graves and Herb Ferguson each stroking four hits. Jim Ferraro had a big night with a pair of homers and a triple. Bill Ferguson and Bruce Munson chipped in with three hits to help the murderous attack.

Bill Ferguson went the route for the winners.

The Hilltoppers pulled their game out of the fire with a single run in the bottom half of the seventh to take the count of Beicherts, 7-6.

Hilltop jumped off to a 5-2 lead in the second. After Beicherts made it 5-4 with a pair of markers in the fourth, the winners picked up another tally in the fourth. Beicherts knotted the count in the sixth and the score remained 6-6 until the Hilltoppers pushed over the deciding score in the seventh.

The game was marked by some brilliant fielding. A tremendous catch by Scheffel saved the Hilltoppers a couple of runs in the seventh.

Joe Enright dueled D. Basch to pick up the victory.

Although out-hit, 12-8, the Lincoln Park Inn squad skimmed through with its 5-4 win over Cherny's.

Van Loan Fans 16 As Esopus Yankees Trip Giants, 4-3

Big Jay Van Loan overpowered the Giants, first half champs of the Esopus Little League, Wednesday night as the Yankees squeaked through with a 4 to 3 victory.

Van Loan faced 21 batters and struck out 16 of the 18 putouts. Dick Wenzel, shortstop for the Giants, collected two of the three hits off Van Loan.

The Yanks came from behind a 3-2 deficit to pull out the decision with a pair of runs in the fourth inning.

Mize's Pinch Double Snaps Yankees' Losing Streak

Bombers Edge Boston, 5-3

By BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Now that the Yankees finally have quit losing maybe the Cleveland Indians will go back to playing better baseball.

Instead of concentrating on their own business, the Indians this week have been going through their paces with one eye on the scoreboard to see how much ground they were gaining on the "fading" New Yorkers. As a result they have lost two in a row to the tail-end Detroit Tigers.

The Yanks broke their nine-game victory drouth by edging the Red Sox, 5-3, in 10 innings at Boston yesterday. Cleveland bowed, 4-2, to Detroit and slipped six games behind the world champions.

The Chicago White Sox, who had yesterday and today off, also are six games back and just two percentage points behind the Indians.

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers made sure that they will be in first place on the morning of the Fourth of July traditional turning point of the pennant races. The Dodgers defeated Philadelphia, 8-0, and second place Milwaukee skidded a game and a half behind by losing to Cincinnati, 3-1. The rest of the National League clubs weren't scheduled.

Johnny Mize hammered the hit that broke the Yankee slump. Pinch hitting in the 10th with two out and Yogi Berra on third base, Mize drove a 3-2 pitch from Sid Hudson into left center field for a double.

The Yankees lost some close games in their slump but they played better yesterday than at any time since they were in the midst of their 18 game winning streak. Their 13-hit total was the highest since June 17. And Vic Raschi pitched like a winner all the way after the Sox got to him for two runs in the first inning.

With one out in the 10th Bollweg lashed a single. Berra followed with a double and a perfect relay from Hoot Evers to Johnny Lipon to Sammy White caught Bollweg at the plate. Then came Mize.

Brooks Get Pitching

Washington's scheduled game in Philadelphia was rained out.

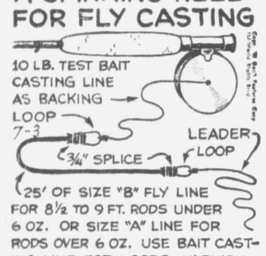

So far this year Brooklyn's biggest difficulty has been its pitching but you couldn't find much wrong with Carl Erskine's seven hit performance against the Phillies. The shutout was only the fourth this season by a Brooklyn pitcher and it marked the first time in 18 games that the opposition hasn't hit a home run against the Dodgers.

Cincinnati has hit 94 home runs, more than any other major league team, and the Redlegs used them to good advantage in handing Milwaukee its eighth straight home loss.

Ted Kluszewski put the Reds in front in the first inning with his 23rd home run and Gus Bell hit his 21st in the ninth. The Braves' only tally off the five-hit pitching of Bud Podbielan was a circuit blast by Del Crandall.

Vets Trounce Rotary in Fraternal League, 9-4

Joe Beaver Gets Credit for 2nd Win of Season

Ashdown Helps In Relief Role

Joe Beaver, with some help from Ronnie Ashdown, pitched the VFW to a 9-4 victory over Rotary in yesterday's Fraternal Youth League game at municipal stadium.

The win squared the VFW record at 2-2 while the Rotary was dropping its fourth straight.

Beaver and Ashdown held Rotary to six hits, while VFW collected 11 off Lindhurst and had three-run innings in the first and fifth. Beaver's record is now 2-0.

Joe Pino, Ron Quarantino and Charlie Bishop hit doubles and Bob Roos had a triple. Bob Dawkins, Pino and Bishop hit safely twice each for VFW.

Top hitter for Rotary was John Culjack with two singles.

$34,786 Is Bid For 8 Test Wells

Albany, July 2—A low bid of $34,786 from Stewart Brothers of Schenectady, N. Y., was received here this afternoon by B. D. Tallamy, chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority and State Superintendent of Public Works, for the drilling of test wells at various locations along the Thruway rout in Albany, Greene, Ulster and Orange counties.

Mr. Tallamy said the test wells are being dug in order to determine water-bearing characteristics of the subsurface materials in regard to quality and quantity of water available. The work, he said, may strongly influence final selection of sites for construction of proposed gasoline stations and restaurant facilities along the Thruway.

A formal award of the contract will probably be made to the Schenectady firm after department engineers have had an opportunity to analyze the two bids received. If the low bid is found acceptable after this review, a contract will be executed and the contractor can move in and commence operations.

Completion of the project is scheduled within 60 days after execution of the contract.

All Committees Named For Letter Carrier Parley

The final full committee meeting for the state convention of the Rural Letter Carrier Association was held Sunday, June 28 at the picnic grounds of the Winding Hills Association with William Devitt of Montgomery as host. After a picnic lunch, C. P. Miller of Newburgh, convention chairman, presided at the meeting. Final committees were appointed and the duties of the committee members discussed.

The rural letter carriers' convention will be held at the Gov. Clinton Hotel during the last week in July.

Eighteen countries have so far indicated their intentions to take part in the 1953 World Fencing Championship to be held in Brussels from July 25 to 28.

The win squared the VFW record at 2-2 while the Rotary was dropping its fourth straight.

$34,786 Is Bid For 8 Test Wells

Albany, July 2—A low bid of $34,786 from Stewart Brothers of Schenectady, N. Y., was received here this afternoon by B. D. Tallamy, chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority and State Superintendent of Public Works, for the drilling of test wells at various locations along the Thruway rout in Albany, Greene, Ulster and Orange counties.

Mr. Tallamy said the test wells are being dug in order to determine water-bearing characteristics of the subsurface materials in regard to quality and quantity of water available. The work, he said, may strongly influence final selection of sites for construction of proposed gasoline stations and restaurant facilities along the Thruway.

A formal award of the contract will probably be made to the Schenectady firm after department engineers have had an opportunity to analyze the two bids received. If the low bid is found acceptable after this review, a contract will be executed and the contractor can move in and commence operations.

Completion of the project is scheduled within 60 days after execution of the contract.

All Committees Named For Letter Carrier Parley

After a picnic lunch, C. P. Miller of Newburgh, convention chairman, presided at the meeting. Final committees were appointed and the duties of the committee members discussed.

The rural letter carriers' convention will be held at the Gov. Clinton Hotel during the last week in July.

Eighteen countries have so far indicated their intentions to take part in the 1953 World Fencing Championship to be held in Brussels from July 25 to 28.

Elevator Operator Killed

New York, July 3 (AP)—A Hotel Edison elevator operator plunged 23 floors to her death down the elevator shaft last night. Police said the operator, Clare Atkinson, 21, apparently left her elevator for a moment and, on returning, mistakenly opened the door to another shaft. The car running in that shaft was on a higher floor.

Chick Donaldson, 212-pound center of the West Virginia football team, couldn't make his high school squad. He weighed only 118 pounds then.

Hillary Tells How

lem. That was the spur which helped us.

"There were two reasons for the success of the expedition—the previous expeditions and, secondly, the planning in advance.

"I would unhesitatingly say that the basic reason for our success was the accumulation of experience and information provided for us by our industrious predecessors.

"There were those who went before the war up to 28,000 feet on the north side, and, more recently, the brilliant reconnaissance by Eric Shipton when he traced a route which was exactly followed by us.

Says Work Brilliant

"It was a brilliant piece of work which played a vital part in our success. Then there was the Swiss expedition, which was of incalculable value to our success.

"Not only did they get the top by the south route but they showed us the way by getting so far and only left us the uncertainty of getting that bit further."

Col. Hunt looked proudly to his teammates and went on:

"This has been a steady build-up over 30 years and we have finalized it. That is all we have done."

Col. Hunt was asked whether he got a glimpse of the "abominable snowman"—the legendary half-man, half-animal some Nepal natives believe roams the Himalayas.

"I am sorry to disappoint you," he replied, "but we saw no trace of him at all."

And then he added with a smile:

"I think we were too large a party for any abominable snowman. They like seclusion and solitude."

Hunt said he is planning to climb again and has his eye on another Himalayan mountain—the third highest in the world. It is known as Kangchenjunga and is located on the border of Nepal. It is 28,150 feet high.

Sent SOS Signals

Nineteen years ago, Rogers was chief radio operator on the luxury liner Morro Castle. He stuck to his post to send SOS signals when fire broke out aboard the ship, which subsequently went aground off Asbury Park, N. J.

According to Police Capt. Louis Smith, Rogers was questioned, because neighbors said he had been a close friend of the Hummels, but did not appear after the tragedy was discovered.

Capt. Smith quoted Rogers as saying he gave Hummel a lift the morning of June 19. Rogers told police Hummel said he was going to a bank.

Dr. Vincent Butler, Hudson county chief medical examiner, said the deaths probably occurred the night of June 19.

Rogers was convicted Dec. 12, 1938 of causing an explosion with intent to injure a police officer. He was sentenced to a 12-to-20 year prison term, but was paroled in 1942.

ments have resulted in extensive cuts in U. S. tariffs.

However, the administration is anxious to get the act on the books again to allay fears of other nations that the U. S. is turning to tighter trade policies.

The President asked a one-year extension pending a broad foreign trade study to be conducted by a 17-member commission set up in the bill. This group would have a 10-to-7 Republican majority membership.

Catholic Anniversary

Rutland, Vt. (AP)—The 100th anniversary of the foundation of the Burlington Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church was celebrated here recently. A cast of nearly 3000 from Catholic parishes throughout the state reviewed in dramatic highlights of the Catholic heritage in the Green Mountain state from the discovery of Lake Champlain by a Catholic explorer to the establishment of rural parishes within the past year.

State Police Continue Probe of Man's Story

State police said today that the man who told them he was robbed and left in a quarry hole at West Hurley was Joseph Nezenski, 52, of Roslyn Heights, L. I.

Nezenski's car, they said, was located in Oneonta, and they were still checking the story today for further details.

Nezenski told the troopers that two men whom he had picked up as hitch hikers at Haverstraw had taken his wallet and car and left him in the quarry hole at night. He remained there, he said until daylight. He said his wallet contained $160.

Sgts. Arthur Reilly and Ray Keating and Cpl. Ray Dunn continued investigation today.

Shokan

Shokan, July 2—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sharrocks and sons, Robert and Chester of Richmond Hill spent the weekend with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter.

Beginning Monday, July 6, the Shokan post office will remain open for business during the noon hour until Labor Day. Office hours for the local office are 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Buley Jr., of the Ashokan mountain road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Friday, June 26. Mrs. Buley is the former Evelyn Gollman. The couple also have a son, Wesley. The two children had two grandfathers, Wesley Buley and Abram Every, in the Civil War.

Callers in the village Thursday included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klercker of Oak Mountain Farm, Boiceville where Harry is employed as caretaker by William Oakes of New York. Mrs. Oaks has employment in Kingston. Harry has achieved considerable fame as an artist. His painting of the wood-working plant at Chichester won first honors in the Onteora contest. It is expected that specimens of his work will be hung in the proposed new library at the former West Shokan schoolhouse.

It is reported that there are more houses for sale here than has been the case at any time in the past several years. The number of prospective buyers has been exceedingly small thus far in the season.

Olive volunteer firemen at a recent meeting of the town department went on record as favoring the extension of lower insurance rates to all property owners within the district instead of within two miles of a firehouse. The motion to this effect, made by Marcel Maier and seconded by Anthony Macaluso, called attention to increased efficiency in responding to and fighting fires in rural districts. Copies of the resolution have been sent to state and fire officials according to John Adsit, Shokan, who is secretary of the Olive Fire Department.

Rhee Insists . . .

Seoul, the Communists also have attacked the U. S. stand on the truce. They unofficially have expressed displeasure at Gen. Mark Clark's call to the Red high command for a quick armistice signing.

Pyongyang radio keeps insisting all 27,000 escaped prisoners be recaptured and has shown irritation over what it calls Clark's failure to give assurances Rhee will go along with the ceasefire.

However, there has been no official Red response to Clark's June 29 letter.

Some Washington quarters have voiced the belief that President Rhee will accept the armistice in a showdown once he feels he has gained all the pledges possible in American military and economic aid and the firmest assurances for a mutual defense pact between the United States and his country.

Qualified sources have made it clear that Robertson's mission is the first and last from Washington to Korea before an armistice is signed.

Hillary Tells How

lem. That was the spur which helped us.

"There were two reasons for the success of the expedition—the previous expeditions and, secondly, the planning in advance.

"I would unhesitatingly say that the basic reason for our success was the accumulation of experience and information provided for us by our industrious predecessors.

"There were those who went before the war up to 28,000 feet on the north side, and, more recently, the brilliant reconnaissance by Eric Shipton when he traced a route which was exactly followed by us.

Says Work Brilliant

"It was a brilliant piece of work which played a vital part in our success. Then there was the Swiss expedition, which was of incalculable value to our success.

"Not only did they get the top by the south route but they showed us the way by getting so far and only left us the uncertainty of getting that bit further."

Col. Hunt looked proudly to his teammates and went on:

"This has been a steady build-up over 30 years and we have finalized it. That is all we have done."

Col. Hunt was asked whether he got a glimpse of the "abominable snowman"—the legendary half-man, half-animal some Nepal natives believe roams the Himalayas.

"I am sorry to disappoint you," he replied, "but we saw no trace of him at all."

And then he added with a smile:

"I think we were too large a party for any abominable snowman. They like seclusion and solitude."

Hunt said he is planning to climb again and has his eye on another Himalayan mountain—the third highest in the world. It is known as Kangchenjunga and is located on the border of Nepal. It is 28,150 feet high.

Sent SOS Signals

Nineteen years ago, Rogers was chief radio operator on the luxury liner Morro Castle. He stuck to his post to send SOS signals when fire broke out aboard the ship, which subsequently went aground off Asubury Park, N. J.

According to Police Capt. Louis Smith, Rogers was questioned, because neighbors said he had been a close friend of the Hummels, but did not appear after the tragedy was discovered.

Capt. Smith quoted Rogers as saying he gave Hummel a lift the morning of June 19. Rogers told police Hummel said he was going to a bank.

Dr. Vincent Butler, Hudson county chief medical examiner, said the deaths probably occurred the night of June 19.

Rogers was convicted Dec. 12, 1938 of causing an explosion with intent to injure a police officer. He was sentenced to a 12-to-20 year prison term, but was paroled in 1942.

Battle Still Might

ments have resulted in extensive cuts in U. S. tariffs.

However, the administration is anxious to get the act on the books again to allay fears of other nations that the U. S. is turning to tighter trade policies.

The President asked a one-year extension pending a broad foreign trade study to be conducted by a 17-member commission set up in the bill. This group would have a 10-to-7 Republican majority membership.

Catholic Anniversary

Rutland, Vt. (AP)—The 100th anniversary of the foundation of the Burlington Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church was celebrated here recently. A cast of nearly 3000 from Catholic parishes throughout the state reviewed in dramatic highlights of the Catholic heritage in the Green Mountain state from the discovery of Lake Champlain by a Catholic explorer to the establishment of rural parishes within the past year.

State Police Continue Probe of Man's Story

State police said today that the man who told them he was robbed and left in a quarry hole at West Hurley was Joseph Nezenski, 52, of Roslyn Heights, L. I.

Nezenski's car, they said, was located in Oneonta, and they were still checking the story today for further details.

Nezenski told the troopers that two men whom he had picked up as hitch hikers at Haverstraw had taken his wallet and car and left him in the quarry hole at night. He remained there, he said until daylight. He said his wallet contained $160.

Sgts. Arthur Reilly and Ray Keating and Cpl. Ray Dunn continued investigation today.

Shokan

Shokan, July 2—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sharrocks and sons, Robert and Chester of Richmond Hill spent the weekend with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter.

Beginning Monday, July 6, the Shokan post office will remain open for business during the noon hour until Labor Day. Office hours for the local office are 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Buley Jr., of the Ashokan mountain road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Friday, June 26. Mrs. Buley is the former Evelyn Gollman. The couple also have a son, Wesley. The two children had two grandfathers, Wesley Buley and Abram Every, in the Civil War.

Callers in the village Thursday included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klercker of Oak Mountain Farm, Boiceville where Harry is employed as caretaker by William Oakes of New York. Mrs. Oaks has employment in Kingston. Harry has achieved considerable fame as an artist. His painting of the wood-working plant at Chichester won first honors in the Onteora contest. It is expected that specimens of his work will be hung in the proposed new library at the former West Shokan schoolhouse.

It is reported that there are more houses for sale here than has been the case at any time in the past several years. The number of prospective buyers has been exceedingly small thus far in the season.

Olive volunteer firemen at a recent meeting of the town department went on record as favoring the extension of lower insurance rates to all property owners within the district instead of within two miles of a firehouse. The motion to this effect, made by Marcel Maier and seconded by Anthony Macaluso, called attention to increased efficiency in responding to and fighting fires in rural districts. Copies of the resolution have been sent to state and fire officials according to John Adsit, Shokan, who is secretary of the Olive Fire Department.

Rhee Insists . . .

Seoul, the Communists also have attacked the U. S. stand on the truce. They unofficially have expressed displeasure at Gen. Mark Clark's call to the Red high command for a quick armistice signing.

Pyongyang radio keeps insisting all 27,000 escaped prisoners be recaptured and has shown irritation over what it calls Clark's failure to give assurances Rhee will go along with the ceasefire.

However, there has been no official Red response to Clark's June 29 letter.

Some Washington quarters have voiced the belief that President Rhee will accept the armistice in a showdown once he feels he has gained all the pledges possible in American military and economic aid and the firmest assurances for a mutual defense pact between the United States and his country.

Qualified sources have made it clear that Robertson's mission is the first and last from Washington to Korea before an armistice is signed.

July 4 Parade Planned

Saugerties, July 2—A gala Fourth of July celebration is planned by the town of Saugerties. The day will begin with a parade which is scheduled to begin promptly at 10 a. m. on Barclay Heights.

A wide representation of business, fraternal, veterans', and young people's organizations will participate in the march. A number of organizations will be entering floats, and there will also be five drum corps in the line of march.

A block dance will be held in the evening in back of the municipal building, Partition street, and music will be furnished by the Community Dance Band.

Army Nurse Promoted

Saugerties, July 2—Eleanor June Myers, daughter of Justice-of-the-Peace and Mrs. Glenford Myers, Lafayette street, has been promoted to captain in the U. S. Army Nurse Reserve Corps. The announcement was made by her parents.

Capt. Myers is on duty at an army hospital in Osaka, Japan. She was notified of her promotion on her birthday, June 23. She has a record of more than six years service in the army. During World War 2, she served four years and was stationed in the European theatre. She was recalled to duty in 1951.

Bathing Beach Is Open

Saugerties, July 2—The Saugerties Municipal Bathing Beach officially opened its season July 1. Two lifeguards are on duty daily from 10 a. m to 7 p. m. The beach has been replenished with sand and the village department of public works crews, under Superintendent Voerg, has replaced the docks which were lost during the early spring floods. A new roof has been placed on the bathing house, as well.
